Jeff,

I don't understand what you want me to do with this letter. Regarding the utilities, you and I know that I have had the right to shut off the utilities to a property I don't own for sometime now. I did not do that because I wanted to stay on good terms with the Kuo's while negotiating the release. I had the utilities taken out of my name yesterday. The city of seguin informs me that the meters were read yesterday and the final bill will be mailed to me next week. Then I can compute the amount that the Kuo's owe me for utilities and send them a check for the rock repairs. Please let Pauline know that she needs to go down to the city and take care of the deposit by Friday or the power may be disconnected. The utilities are already in her name.

In my mind the utilities were never a bargaining chip. Rather, you and I are paying the $11,000 in exchange for the release. Regarding the transfer of ownership into a limited partnership, I will most likely be agreeable to this but I want to review all the loan documents with Jacques and ensure that there is still a personal guarantee on the two notes. I expect to have that done by Friday.

I would like for her to sign the release today, but if she won't sign until I consent to the limited partnership then the release will have to wait until Friday. As far as the utilities go, I made the transfer for two reasons: 1) I need to know the amount that I have paid to net against the $11,000 and 2) I had the right to take the utilities out of my name and I didn't want the balance to get out of hand.

I will call you when I am comfortable consenting to the limited partnership.

Phillip

I spoke with Pauline and she says she is ready to transfer the utilities. However, she wants to get your signed permission to transfer their ownership interests to the J&P Kuo, Ltd. for purposes of paying back the two notes. (per her attorneys advice). She is ready to sign the settlement, but she has not been able to talk to her lawyer who is tied up in court.

I have attached a Word file with the a letter to them which authorizes the transfer. If it is acceptable please sign and fax to her directly at 830-372-5400. Please fax to me also.

"Vicki Arroyo-Cochran" <CochranV@pewclimate.org> 06/04/2001 02:40 PM To: <jkeeler@enron.com> cc: Subject: Summer workshop

Jeff - The Pew Center is sponsoring a 2-day workshop in conjunction with an annual summer program held by the Energy Modeling Forum in Snowmass, CO. We are hoping to supplement EMF's list of economists and economic modelers who are largely academics or with government labs or offices with folks from companies who can help shed some light on how companies anticipate markets will react to climate policies and the possible changes to prices and availability of cleaner fuels such as natural gas. A description of the 2-day program follows, and we can provide more information on the EMF meeting as well if that's helpful. I would be grateful if you can help identify someone at Enron -- or otherwise -- who you feel could both contribute to and benefit from the discussions with top economists and modelers. If you need more information, please feel free to call me or Leianne Clements (our economist) at the Pew Center number listed below.

Thanks for considering, Vicki Arroyo Cochran Director of Policy Analysis

The Economics of Natural Gas in the Climate Change Debate (August 9-10, 2001)

Determining future demands and supply of natural gas (NG) are important in determining climate policies since burning NG is relatively "cleaner" than burning coal and oil. A climate policy based on reducing the carbon content in fuels would favor NG, along with other less-carbon intensive energy sources, thus accelerating its demand. However, economic models looking at the climate change issue show mixed results on this issue; many models show the demand for NG increasing relative to more "dirty" fuels while others show its demand decreasing at a rate faster than oil (explained by NG demand being more responsive to a tax).

The Pew Center has found that NG information is often extrapolated from that of oil. Without clear information on the true path of the NG sector, policy-makers will be misinformed on how to address the climate change problem. The Pew Center will host a conference in conjunction with the Energy Modeling Forum of Stanford University, to gather leading experts on both the modeling and practical side of determining natural gas issues. A report will be published summarizing the topics discussed in the conference.

Richard,

I checked with Wink and his prices were slightly lower per square foot but the builder was not keen on the panels Wink is selling because the dimensional lumber to frame windows and doors is not included. So that reduces some of the savings. Either way it still appears that a panel home will cost close to $20,000 more for a 4000 sq ft home. Even if I assume my energy savings will be $125/month, it would take approximately 22 years to recover the upfront cost assuming a 5% interest rate.

Cost is a major concern, but I am also concerned with the comfort level of the upstairs. I am under the impression that the panels will prevent the upstairs from feeling significantly hotter than the downstairs as most two story homes do. What are some other alternatives that would also be effective? Radiant barrier? More attic ventilation?

Thank you for your help.

Phillip, there are a number of alternative systems that will allow the same level of energy efficiency. I would wait a bit for Wink's bid though. You say that your panel costs are $20,000 additional. that sounds like a lot. I just did a panel house with a 2100 sq ft footprint and the total panel cost was about $25,000 with 8 inch walls and 10 inch roof. Stay in touch and we can discuss alternatives if that becomes necessary. If your budget is $85-90 per sq. ft. excluding land costs your costs will be on the low end of the true custom home level but should be achievable with good management. Richard,

I spoke to you earlier this week with questions about building with SIP's. I am planning to build a home in San Marcos as soon as I can decide on a builder and materials. I already have my blueprints completed. What I took from our conversation was to use the SIP's with 8.5" roof panels and use a metal roof.

I have been working with Johnnie Brown, a builder from San Antonio that is also a Creative Panel rep. The problem is that I have a budget of $85-$90/sf and it does not appear that he will be able to stay within that budget. I don't want to settle for a conventional stick built house. I was wondering about alternatives. Would some combination of a radiant barrier and non-CFC spray insulation provide close to the same energy savings at a lower cost than SIP's. For example, I just spoke to a sales rep for Demilec. He will spray foam insulation at $1.30/sf. That would be approximately $10,000 compared to over $20,000 additional costs for the panels. But would the foam insulation be as effective? Do you have any suggestions of materials or contractors that would help me construct the best home for the money. I am trying to get a bid from Wink with Premier based on your reference.

Thank you for your help.

I like these homes much better than the one from earlier this week. I like the steeper pitched roof and the high glass windows in the top of the gables. Plus these seem a little bigger. I like the floor plan of the hoover plan better than the vandergersens. The kitchen should be bigger. You could take some space from the sewing room and add an island to the kitchen.

Jeff,

The release that Jacques prepared provides for the payback of any utilities that I have been paying since 4/20. You might mention to them that we need to get the utilities settled up before we pay the $11,000. It might be a good idea to go ahead and have the utilities transferred so we can get the final amount since 4/20.

Also May 20th was supposed to be the 1st payment on the two notes. But I have not received payment on either.

Let's try and wrap this up this week.

The kuo's are having their attorney look at the agreement. They need to transfer their onwershhip into a LLP with your consent before they can sign the agreement. Pauline is contacting the bank for their consent also. You may need to sign a consent form to transfer the LLP. I will keep you posted.

Is AMF willing to put up the additional earnest money and acknowledge June 29th as the day they were supposed to close or do they believe they are honoring the contract by closing on July 18th? Of course, I would prefer to close as soon as possible.

I received the fax from the stagecoach. I am willing to pay any small expenses like the phone bill incurred prior to April 20th. What is the status of the release and the utility transfer?

The buyer wants to close on July 18 or 19th. According to the contract they must close one month after all requirements have been met or put up an additional $25,000 in NON-REFUNDABLE earnest money. The zoning was approved on May 29.

However, the official zoning designation has not been done yet and may not be approved until around the 1st of Aug. Give me a call when you get back.

Good morning. My name is Nancy Turner, and I have recently joined Kristin Walsh's competitive analysis group where I follow gas industry issues.

As you may recall, earlier this summer we informed you that El Paso's line 1110 had been brought down for repair, pigging and OPS review. Our sources at El Paso and OPS have indicated to us this week that line 1110 is expected to come back online on September 1st. We understand that the throughput on the entire system at that time should be at least 920 Mmcf/d (same as before it went offline). However, there is a strong possibility that OPS may grant the system permission to return to it's full capacity at 1.1 Bcf/d on September 1st.

We are trying to obtain more information on the capacity issue and hope to have this confirmed early next week. We will keep you posted, but if you have any questions, please feel free to contact me at X 51623 or Kristin at X 39510.

Phillip,

I spoke with AMF's broker today, and they will be satisfied with the deal if we can get the school to agree to limit the current land use restrictions to the terms that are in the existing agreement. They do not want the school to come back at a later date for something different. Doug Bell will meet with a school official on Monday to see what their thoughts are about the subject. It would be hard for them to change the current agreement, but AMF wants something in writing to that effect. I spoke to AMF's attorney today, and explained the situation. They are OK with deal if AMF is satisfied.

AMF's broker said that they will be ready to submit their site plan after the March 29 hearing. We may close this deal in April.

The Stage is still on go. An assumption package has been sent to the buyer, and I have overnighted a copy of the contract and a description of the details to Wayne McCoy.

I will be gone Thurs. and Fri. of this week. I will be checking my messages.

Michelle,

Here are my comments:

Section 9b- It is my understanding that the Utility lines are currently under construction and should be finished by late February 2002. Can we reference the work that is being performed by the contractor, JC Evans. I want to avoid any ambiguity regarding the "Utility Lines". Also can we make the same distinction in the Utility Construction Escrow Agreement in Section C.

Section 10- Please change to Purchaser can extend closing for 3 successive periods of 30 days each for $10,000 per extension, not applicable to purchase price and non-refundable.

Also, I would prefer to sign the first amendment and the utility escrow documents at the same time since they reference each other.

I have sent Mike B. a copy of this email.

File	allen-p/sent_items/108.

Carlos,

Can you help me with several 1031 exchange questions? I spoke to your office and they thought it best that I address my questions to you directly.

Here is my situation. I purchased a 32 acre tract in Leander about 8 months ago. I have a contract to sell the property which should close around July 18th.

I expect to realize a gain of around $400,000. See calculations below:

Sales price: 2,100,000 Purchase price 1,200,000 Fees&Devel costs 500,000

Profit 400,000

The cash generated at the sale will be close to $1 million after repayment of a loan.

I am interested in protecting this gain through a 1031 exchange.

I am already involved in a couple of other real estate transactions that might qualify.

First, there is a 10 acre tract that was purchased by Bishops Corner, Ltd for $1.15 million six months ago. I lent the partnership the cash to buy the land with the intent of working with the developer to build a multifamily project. We could not come to terms for the development, so the partnership was conveyed to me. The loan still exist. I am an 80% limited partner. Another investor is the other limited partner. We have set up a Corporation to be the general partner. We intend to develop the property. Is there a creative way to use the land purchase in a 1031 exchange?

Second, I have a small tract in New Braunfels under contract for $400,000. I am applying for FHA financing for a 180 unit apartment complex and hope to receive an invitation letter prior to closing. I would need to place this property in a limited partnership eventually, but is there a way to buy the property hold it in my name long enough to satisfy the IRS then move it to a LP.

If neither of these deals qualify, I would still like to find another piece of property. My two biggest concerns are tying up too much cash and holding property in my own name. Is there a way to insure during the 1st year then move a different entity?

Thank you in advance for your help.

I've incorporated your thoughts, but was hoping you could take a look at them since we didn't have a chance to go over them together. The outlines and explanations are below. Could you respond back by EOD Monday in hopes for us to send these outlines for Final Signoff?

Lastly, I was wondering if I could stop by (your's or Ina's desk) and pick up your comments about the last three topic outlines by EOD Monday. Can you let me know if this is possible?

Organizational Structure. You jotted down "Jeff Gosset, M to M, P&L, and Positions". We have an entire section about Mark to Market in the Risk Management Inputs topic. P&L statements and Position reports are large sections in the Accounting and Reporting topic. In addition, we discuss Mid Office in the Overview page of this topic (org. structure). Is this enough or were you thinking something in addition to what I just mentioned. (See attached file: Framework Org Structure_4.doc)

Accounting and Reporting I've incorporated the areas of "G&L, cash payments, and reconciliation into the last section of the outline. Is this what you were thinking? (See attached file: Framework AR_5.doc)

Keith Holst

ENRON

1400 Smith Street

Subject: Bishops Corner, Ltd. -- Restructure or Buyout

Dear Phillip and Keith:

We are prepared to sell Bishops Corner, Ltd. for reimbursement of our cash expenditures; compensation for our management services and your assumption of all note obligations and design contracts.?

As shown on the attached summary table, cash expenditures total $21,196 and existing contracts to the architect, civil engineer, soils testing company, and appraisal total $67,050.? The due on these contracts is $61,175, of which current unpaid invoices due total $37,325.

Acting in good faith, we have invested an enormous amount of time into this project for more than five months and have completed most of the major design and other pre-construction elements.? As it is a major project for a firm of our size, it was given top priority with other projects being delayed or rejected, and we are now left with no project to pursue.?

Two methods for valuing this development management are 1) based on a percentage of the minimum $1.4MM fee we were to have earned and 2) based on your prior valuation of our time.? For the first, we feel that at least 25%, or $350,000, of the minimum $1.4MM fee has been earned to date.? For the second, in your prior correspondence you valued our time at $500,000 per year, which would mean this period was worth $208,333.? Either of these valuations seem quite fair and reasonable, especially as neither includes the forfeit of our 40% interest in the project worth $0.8--$1.2MM. ?However, in the hope that we can maintain a good relationship with the prospect of future projects, we are willing to accept only a small monthly fee of $15,000 per month to cover a portion of our direct time and overhead.? As shown in the attached table, this fee, plus cash outlays and less accrued interest brings the total net buyout to $78,946.?

We still believe that this project needs the professional services that we offer and have provided.? However, if you accept the terms of this buyout offer, which we truly feel is quite fair and reasonable, then, we are prepared to be bought out and leave this extraordinary project to you both.? If this is your choice, either contact us, or have your attorney contact our attorney, Claudia Crocker, no later than Friday of this week.? The attorneys can then draft whatever minimal documents are necessary for the transfer of the Bishops Corner, Ltd. Partnership to you following receipt of the buyout amount and assumption of the outstanding professional design contracts.

Thank you.

Jacques,

George finally sent me some information. Please look over his email. He wants us to buy him out. Keith and I think this is a joke.

We still need to speak to his engineer and find out about his soil study to determine if it has any value going forward. I don't believe the architect work will be of any use to us. I don't think they deserve any compensation for their time due to the fact that intentional or not the project they were proposing was unsupportable by the market.

My version of a buyout is attached.

I need your expert advise. I am ready to offer my version or threaten to foreclose. Do they have a case that they are due money for their time? Since their cost and fees didn't hold up versus the market and we didn't execute a contract, I wouldn't think they would stand a chance. There isn't any time to waste so I want to respond to their offer asap.

Call me with your thoughts.

Phillip

Subject: Bishops Corner, Ltd. -- Restructure or Buyout

Dear Phillip and Keith:

We are prepared to sell Bishops Corner, Ltd. for reimbursement of our cash expenditures; compensation for our management services and your assumption of all note obligations and design contracts.?

As shown on the attached summary table, cash expenditures total $21,196 and existing contracts to the architect, civil engineer, soils testing company, and appraisal total $67,050.? The due on these contracts is $61,175, of which current unpaid invoices due total $37,325.

Acting in good faith, we have invested an enormous amount of time into this project for more than five months and have completed most of the major design and other pre-construction elements.? As it is a major project for a firm of our size, it was given top priority with other projects being delayed or rejected, and we are now left with no project to pursue.?

Two methods for valuing this development management are 1) based on a percentage of the minimum $1.4MM fee we were to have earned and 2) based on your prior valuation of our time.? For the first, we feel that at least 25%, or $350,000, of the minimum $1.4MM fee has been earned to date.? For the second, in your prior correspondence you valued our time at $500,000 per year, which would mean this period was worth $208,333.? Either of these valuations seem quite fair and reasonable, especially as neither includes the forfeit of our 40% interest in the project worth $0.8--$1.2MM. ?However, in the hope that we can maintain a good relationship with the prospect of future projects, we are willing to accept only a small monthly fee of $15,000 per month to cover a portion of our direct time and overhead.? As shown in the attached table, this fee, plus cash outlays and less accrued interest brings the total net buyout to $78,946.?

We still believe that this project needs the professional services that we offer and have provided.? However, if you accept the terms of this buyout offer, which we truly feel is quite fair and reasonable, then, we are prepared to be bought out and leave this extraordinary project to you both.? If this is your choice, either contact us, or have your attorney contact our attorney, Claudia Crocker, no later than Friday of this week.? The attorneys can then draft whatever minimal documents are necessary for the transfer of the Bishops Corner, Ltd. Partnership to you following receipt of the buyout amount and assumption of the outstanding professional design contracts.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Larry,

I met with a banker that is interested in financing the project. They need the following:

Financial statements plus last two years tax returns. Builders resume listing similar projects

The banker indicated he could pull together a proposal by Friday. If we are interested in his loan, he would want to come see the site. If you want to overnight me the documents, I will pass them along. You can send them to my home or office (1400 Smith, EB3210B, Houston, TX 77002).

The broker is Jim Murnan. His number is 713-781-5810, if you want to call him and send the documents to him directly.

It sounds like the attorneys are drafting the framework of the partnership agreement. I would like to nail down the outstanding business points as soon as possible.

Please email or call with an update.

Phillip

I would like more detail about how much margin my open positions require and how the muni's are treated with regard to margin. The call's I am short are way out of the money. The only positions that are changing very much in value are the Enron shares I am long and the Enron puts I am short. I would consider closing those positions. I would like to put the maximum possible into Muni's.

Please forward this email to Steve.

Phillip:

Steve and I are inquiring on the email you sent him. We wanted come up with a Muni proposal for 1M and take it from there. At this point, we have about 1.3M available but using this full amount would not give us any cushion in regards to margin. Let us know if the 1M is OK with you; assuming we can always go in and invest more into the bond ladder.

For your information -

This morning Goldman issued a brief report following their visit with Enron Management on Monday. Their revised price target is $68/share. Many of the recent issues driving causing downward pressure on the stock are discussed.

Goldman will be hosting a conference call today at 10:00am (CST) to discuss their views on ENE shares with clients. Should you wish to listen, dial-in details are included in their report which is included below as an attachment.

Should you have any questions, please let me know.

To our IBS Customers that are still hanging in there:

We understand your continued frustration and express our sincerest apologies for our inability to give complete and accurate answers to your questions. The problems that we are seeing are one of three (3) possibilities:

1) You have entered your password incorrectly (or what you thought was the correct password) and been given the error message that you have exceeded your opportunities for today, and you receive the message "You have failed to correctly login three times today; please try again tomorrow, or contact the bank at 830-379-5236 to have your password reset." This is the easiest problem to correct and we can fix this one quickly with you online (on the phone). Should you receive this message, please call our Computer Department and ask for either myself (Howard Gordon) @ 830-401-1185,

Christina Kirby @ 830-401-1189, or Lora Robles @ 830-401-1182. If you reach our voice mail (or another employee), please leave your Name, Account # and call back #.

2) You are not using the last six (6) digits of your ssn# (this is the ssn# or tin# of the primary account holder). Please try again using the last six (6) digits, or call us to determine who we have recorded as the primary account holder.

3) If you see this error message "Invalid login; please try again" (after three [3] or more tries), then you possibly fall into this last category. Your account is one of the few that did not convert correctly (we will not release any information about these accounts until we verify that all information is correct and accurate). We are finalizing these accounts today and should have them available for access this afternoon (late) or this evening. Once we release these accounts for IBS access, you will have to again use the last six (6) digits of your ssn# (this is the ssn# or tin# of the primary account holder), then you will be directed to a screen that asks for information such as:

Name Address City, State Zip+4 Phone # E-Mail Address

After entering this information and clicking submit, you will then be instructed to change your password to anything that you desire (you can at this point change your password back to what it was before). Always remember that your password is case sensitive.

Should you get into IBS (before early evening [6:00pm]), the balance and transactional information displayed is as of 11/16/01 (Friday night). We will have this information updated by 6:00pm (hopefully), and then information will be as of Monday (11/19/01). Again we want to thank you for your patience through this (trying) ordeal, and we look forward to continuing to service your IBS needs in the future.

Sincerely,

Howard Gordon Network Manager

Phillip, John & Dutch I want to personally thank you for supporting the BRM deal and I look forward to working with each of you to make this deal a success. I have provided the email below for your information. The current next steps are as follows:

Yevgeny & I will meet with Vince Kaminski (tomorrow) to get his support as an Exec SME and get his nominee for content SME; Phillip will provide his nominee for content SME (by tomorrow); I will contact both Phillip's & Vince's content SME nominee (By Wednesday); and All SME's will meet and have a demo provided by Accenture. (as soon as possible and feasible based on schedules)

Thus the SME picture should look like this

Exec SME's : Phillip, Vince, & John Content SME: Dutch, Phillip's Nominee, Vince's Nominee, Mark Reese and a structuring nominee (Phillip can you provide me with your suggestions again, Thanks)

If you have any questions contact me at your convenience.

Again Thanks!

Kirk, here are two documents I have revised, assuming a start date for the week of August 24 for actual content work/design, not just kick off. This slips our delivery into the new year. Please review and let's talk about them the next time we meet. I hope your meetings are going well.

List of deliverables and tentative and aggressive due dates, all to be revised once we start. In addition, as we move through design, many of these deliverables will become unit based to ease our tracking of progress, but since we don't know how many topics/expert stories... that we are building, it is difficult to create that tracking now.

(See attached file: Deliverables Tracking 081301.xls)

Here is the revised list I mentioned as our SME goals each week, assuming a start as stated above. (See attached file: SME Meeting Schedule 081301.doc)

I look forward to talking with you tomorrow. Give me a call and let me know how things are going.

To all of our esteemed & prized Internet Banking (IBS) Clients:

You probably have begun to wonder does anyone ever return phone calls (or e-mails). We really do but have been holed up trying to complete this project ASAP. We knew that this might upset some clients, but we found that this is the quickest way to fix this problem and get our users back on-line.

We have finalized the movement of your customer account #s and re-linked your additional accounts back to your primary Login ID (Acct #). This process was more daunting than we anticipated and having to verify 1100 IBS users and account #s (to insure your data integrity and confidentiality) was even more grueling than expected. After verifying data and Login IDs, we believe that we are on the right track. Some of you (our IBS clients) might notice your accounts displayed more than once or additional accounts displayed that you may (or may not) want displayed on your IBS screen. Should this be the case, please e-mail (or phone) the information to us and we will remove this information right away.

To our IBS Billpayer clients:

During this process, we seem to have misplaced (blown away) your bill payment information (particularly anyone that has [had] reoccurring payments scheduled to process on particular days). This has become our highest priority to retrieve this information, thus alleviating the process of having to request that our IBS Billpayers re-enter this information. We are going to waive all bill payment charges for the months of November & December, 2001 to try and regain your confidence (and support).

Again, we deeply express our regrets and hope that we (yourselves and ourselves) do not have to go through this process again. Should you be one of our IBS clients that still has not gained access to your account information, please refer to the following information:

1) You have entered your password incorrectly (or what you thought was the correct password) and been given the error message "You have failed to correctly login three times today; please try again tomorrow, or contact the bank at 830-379-5236 to have your password reset." This is the easiest problem to correct and we can fix this one quickly with you online (on the phone or by e-mail [our preferred method]). Should you receive this message, please call our Computer Department and ask for either myself (Howard Gordon) @ 830-401-1185, Christina Kirby @ 830-401-1189, or Lora Robles @ 830-401-1182. If you reach our voice mail (or another employee), please leave your Name, Account # and call back #.

2) You are not using the last six (6) digits of your ssn# (this is the ssn# or tin# of the primary account holder). Please try again using the last six (6) digits, or call us to determine who we have recorded as the primary account holder. Since we have released these accounts for IBS access, you will have to again use the last six (6) digits of your ssn# (this is the ssn# or tin# of the primary account holder), then you will be directed to a screen that asks for information such as:

Name Address City, State Zip+4 Phone # E-Mail Address

After entering this information and clicking submit, you will then be instructed to change your password to anything that you desire (you can at this point change your password back to what it was before). Always remember that your password is case sensitive.

Again we want to thank you for your patience through this (trying) ordeal, and we look forward to serving your IBS needs in the future.

Enclosed is the preliminary proforma for the Westgate property is Austin that we told you about. As you can tell from the proforma this project should produce a truly exceptional return of over 40% per year over 3 years. This is especially attractive when the project is in a market as strong as Austin and we are introducing new product that in a very low price range for this market. This is the best project in terms of risk and reward that we have uncovered to date in the Austin market. The project does have approved zoning and will only require a site plan. As it is in the "Smart Growth Corridor" area designated by the City of Austin for preferred development, this will be fast tracked and should be complete in less than 6 months. Additionally, many of the current and more severe water treatment ordinances have been waived. I have estimated the lot improvement costs based on a 28 lot development we investigated in North Austin, which included a detention/retention and filtration pond and street widening. Even though this property is not likely to require street widening and will have less of a detention/retention and filtration pond requirement, I used this data to be cautious. The Lone Star gas line easement in the lower portion of the property is not expected to impact sales significantly. Other projects have been quite successful with identical relationships to this pipeline, such as the adjoining single family residential and a project at St. Edwards University. As with most infill projects, the quality of the surrounding neighborhoods is uneven. We have included a fence around the entire property, but may only put it on Westgate and Cameron Loop. Gated communities are far preferred so this is a good idea for both screening and current buyer preferences. The seller accepted our offer Thursday evening with a price of $680,000 and an extended escrow. This will enable us to probably obtain an approved site plan before closing on the contract, which will mean that we can close into an A&D Loan rather than into a land loan and then an improvement loan. This analysis shows your investment at $700,000 for a 50% interest in the profits of the project. As we discussed in San Marcos, we can also discuss having you invest only in the lots, sell the lots to the construction entity with your profit in the lot. I believe this would facilitate the use of a 1031 Exchange of the proceeds from this deal into another project that is a rental deal or at least into the land for a rental project that would then be the equity for that project. You would need to discuss this with an exchange expert first. Larry Lewter knows an expert in the field in San Antonio if you do not know anyone. I will send you a package on the property that was prepared by the broker, by Airborne Express today for Saturday delivery. Once you have read the package and reviewed this proforma, we would want to schedule a tour of the site and the area. Please get back to me as soon as your schedule permits regarding the site visit and feel free to call at any time. You can reach me over the weekend and in the evening at either 512-338-1119 or 512-338-1110. My cell phone is 512-748-7495 and the fax is 512-338-1103. I look forward to hearing from you and to working with you on this project that is sure to be a major winner. I regret that it took so long to get back to you, but we had some unusual events these past few weeks. A small freakish wind storm with severe 60+mpg downdrafts hit the South part of Austin where we are building 10 town homes. One of these units had just had the roof decked with the siding scheduled to start the next day. The severe downdraft hitting the decked roof was enough to knock it down. The City shut down the project for a week and it took another week to get every thing back on tract. Then last week I had to take my wife to emergency. She has a bulge in the material between the vertebra in her spine and it causes her extreme pain and has kept her bedridden this past week.. There is nothing like having your wife incapacitated to realize the enormous number of things she does everyday. Fortunately, it looks as if she will be ok in the long run. George W. 2002 IN REVIEW: NOT PERFECT, BUT IT SURE BEAT 2001

Welcome to my 2002 Year in Review column, which I feel very safe in asserting you are reading here first. It's been a pretty good year, unless of course you hate Microsoft, love Linux, or were hoping HP and Compaq would unite. Read on for my highlights of the year that's about to happen.

MS STALLING?... MORE JOBS IN 2002... CABLE WOES PERSIST...

Could Microsoft be stalling? The nine states still pursuing the software giant's antitrust case sure think so. They've asked a federal judge to reject Microsoft's request to delay the remedy hearings, though Microsoft says any holdup is the states' fault for seeking such a tough remedy.
