Sheri,

It was a pleasure speaking with you today. Attached is the ICE New User Enrollment Form. This is the means by which you can identify the individuals that are to be set up as ICE users and the level of access (User Type) to be granted to each. Of particular importance is the identification of the individuals who will be acting as the primary Administrative, Credit, IT, and Invoicing contacts for IntercontinentalExchange.

You will need to complete a separate form for each Enron entity that executed a Participant Agreement.

If you have any questions, please call me at 770.738.2129. Thanks for your interest and we look forward to serving you.

Thanks for your message. I thought that John did have responsibility for risk, and I am glad to have that clarified. Kristin worked for me for several years as the risk lead for ENA power and joined Barry at EBS last August, so I knew that you all had a great resource there!

I will look forward to a follow-up conversation to explore where we may have potential solutions for EBS that can be borrowed or modified from EWS. Just give me a call when you are ready to get back together. --Sally

I do want to correct one misstatement that I made. John DOES have ownership of the risk books. This area of responsibility is being handle by a lady named Kristen Albrecht who reports to Barry Pearce who is in charge of trading operations.

I have heard through several sources that AEP has purchased the Enron Nordic team in Oslo. This creates several issues that we must address:

Did AEP purchase any systems and/or contracts? Are these employees still located in our office and if so are they assuming the building lease and associated expenses? Do they still have access to our systems? Who, if anyone, was not included in the AEP purchase? Many of the deals were executed under ECTRIC - Nordic Branch; is this treated similar to ECTRIC? Since ECTRIC still has not declared bankruptcy, we need to evaluate these portfolios immediately. We probably do not have Commercial leadership in Oslo; therefore, we need to develop an action plan for that office.

I believe that there were only Power and Weather transactions managed by Thor Lien in the Oslo office.

I have commitments for a business dinner on Wednesday, June 6th (moved from the 29th this week, the rescheduling of which had a bearing on my availability next week). Patti said that you asked about dinner on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday. It was a pleasure to meet you last week when you were in Houston. You arrived with a some good advance "press" from Cindy, all of which was well founded. I am glad that your meeting with Tom was fruitful and I am pleased that there may be a fit between Enron's needs and Vivance's offerings. I know that Cindy is very enthusiastic about the quality product that Viviance delivers, so creating a win-win situation for both companies would be great. I have e-mailed Jim Martino to keep me posted to the extent there is anything that I can do to help move along the process. While I won't make the business decision here, I can certainly help to focus attention when needed.

Let me know when you will be back in Houston. If you like Mexican food, I can introduce you to the best place in the state for a great meal. --Sally

Sally, Sorry it took me so long, but just landed back in New York since last Monday. Please accept my sincerest of thanks for fitting Jim and me into your already hectic schedule. After chatting with Tom Wilbeck, I do believe that Viviance is the right decision for Enron. Simply, Tom led us to believe that a true discovery audit regarding the focus, needs, and delivery should take place. We just finished the same for DELL...this has proven to be quite beneficial, as a study overview does give everyone involved a better understanding of the right product for a specific company culture. Just throwing content on a screen doesn't ensure, successful retention. Our mission, of education first, enables greater performance in the end. Hopefully during my next trip down we could take some time for lunch or dinner. Your call. All my best, and again, thank you. Respectfully

Doing fine - still in the boat. At what is truly the eleventh hour, I seem to be getting calls about taking the Netco operations role. Despite my statement of disinterest, there are those who would like to have one more conversation when the purchaser is known and a real role could be discussed.

I have met with Fallon several times over the last several days, but each meeting has specifically focused on information needs for E&Y relative to the estate or conference calls related to the transition services agreement with Netco. Jim seems busy with these issues.

I am meeting with Janet D. tomorrow morning at 8:00 to give her an update on an infrastructure plan. I have Bob Hall researching the details and status of the Peoples JV, Bridgeline and wholesale and retail power positions in California (he is coordinating with Beth Apollo and team on the retail side). These details will help us flesh out the right support if these are some of the first assets that will be managed to create a go-forward company.

I enjoyed the dinner Tuesday night and had the opportunity to visit over dinner with a couple of people that I had not known before. Seems like a good group. --Sally

Sally,

Let me know if next Wednesday (May 23rd) looks good for lunch at Irma's. If so, I can just plan on picking you up in front of your building around 11:15 if we need to be there by 11:30 or whenever Patti makes the reservation for. Feel free to ask Jody if you would like for him to join us too. If Wednesday is busy, then Thursday would be fine also. Just let me know and I will plan my schedule accordingly.

I will be in the office tomorrow (Wed) then will be out till next Tuesday. David is going to e-mail me directions to Champions. That ought to be fun and the weather should be better than our originally planned outing this past January.

Look forward to seeing you next week.

Hi Sally,

Am assuming you got the OU stickers for your new vehicle and that David has already put them on by now.

I will be in Houston the end of this month (May 30- June 2) and would like to take you to lunch if possible and get caught up on everything. I have also asked Mike McConnell to join us if possible. Hopefully the two of you have a free day available for lunch and can coordinate a time and day. Let me know if and when the two of you would be available and I will schedule around your plans.

I guess Michelle, Clay and Blake will have been there for a week when I am there. I was sad to see George leave the recruiting side, as he really did a good job of promoting Enron to both OU and my students. I know he will do a great job at Enron OnLine.

Hope all is going well with your father and that you are not constantly traveling around the world and being away from your family.

Look forward to hopefully seeing you later this month.

We need to pull together a list of all non-residential real estate leases for premises used by EGM and its businesses.

To date, I have identified five such leases, listed below by address and landlord:

(1) 2103 Southlake Blvd., Southlake, Texas (Comercis, Inc.) (2) 500 Lee Street East, Charleston, West Virginia (Laidley Developers Limited Partnership) (3) 780 Third Avenue, New York, New York (TIAA) (4) Penn Center West, Bldg Two, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania (Penn Center Management Corp.) (5) 150 North Michigan Ave., Chicago, IL 60601 (BfG Immobilien-Investment Gesellschaft mbH Ltd.)

Please let me know ASAP if you are aware of ANY leased premises held or used by EGM or its related businesses that is not on the above list. While all of the above leases are office leases, we need a complete list of ALL non-residential real estate leases (including warehouse leases, land leases, etc.). Please be overinclusive in responding to this information request, as I am including premises that EGM shares with other Enron business units and is charged an allocation.

Thank you all for your attention to and cooperation with this important information request -- Bob Bruce

Hello Kenneth,

I am writing this short note in an effort to further my understanding of Enron and establish some rapport with you regarding your ideas on voice and video conferencing. Polycom Network Systems manufactures the Accord infrastructure that allows you to have multiple participants in video and voice conferences simultaneously. Fundamentally, I am interested to hear your ideas on voice and video conferencing and perhaps have a discussion on how your requirements (if they exist at all) may be addressed by Polycom Network Systems in a dually beneficial business relationship.

I have attached two short introductions to the Accord Product Line to eliminate the anonymity of this correspondence. The Multi Network Communication attachment furthers your knowledge about video conferencing. The V2GC-20 attachment discusses the many features that the Accord Product Line has to offer.

All the best to you,

Thanks for rounding up the tickets for the Orange Bowl. You can mail them to me, or just hold them until I see you after Christmas. Mike's wife decided not to make the trip, so he won't be using the tickets. Jody Crook will use the other two tickets.

Lunch during the week between Christmas and New Years sounds great to me. I will be working that week, but would be glad to meet you guys at Champions for lunch if that is best. Or if you are game for Irma's, just let me know when you would like to come downtown.

Sally/Mike,

I will be in Houston the week after Christmas (12/26-12/29) and was wondering if the two of you were going to be in the office, and if so, would you be available for lunch? In talking with David Beck, he was going to try to arrange a golf game (Mike, me, Richard Kimberlin and David) one of those afternoons at Champions. If that is possible, then maybe lunch before golf might work. If not, then I can meet you downtown when convenient. Let me know what your schedules are like and I will plan my schedule accordingly.

Also, I need to know if I need to mail the Orange Bowl tickets to both of you separately or just one of you. Didn't know if you are planning on going to Miami together? I should receive the tickets in the next day or two and will do whatever. Ought to be a fun trip, as it has definitely been awhile since the Sooners have been to Miami.

Anyway, let me know if you are available for lunch/gold or just lunch.

Hope you all have a wonderful holiday season and most of all get to spend time with your families!

As discussed, given Joe's comments below, a note to confirm that this being dealt with internally.

Rob Soeldner has made it clear to Joe that:

Enron places great importance on trading controls. These are non-negotiatable. The suggested course of action is not an option We aren't seeking to close any of the Agency offices given implemetation of these controls.

Joe is not in yet - Rob will be discussing with him further when the US gets in.

Of note - Joe is on the commercial side, Marcelo Parra who is responsible for the operational side is fully onboard for the operational changes made.

As a practical matter the procedures outlined are not workable. We need to find a way to go forward that works and can satisfy all concerned.

Either the people in these offices can be entrusted to transact and execute business or we should consider closing these offices and relocating some of the people which I do not believe makes any sense at all.

This is our third year to work jointly with many of you in the business school to award these scholarships to outstanding students in their second year of the MBA program. One of the highlights to those of us involved from Enron is the dinner that we host to recognize the students and to renew associations with many of you. I hope that you will be able to join us at The Josephine House on Tuesday, October 16 for cocktails at 7:00pm and dinner at 7:30pm.

As I have in previous years, I look forward to joining you, your colleagues and mine at the reception and dinner.

Subject to understandable space constraints, may I be so bold as to suggest you consider inviting my Center for Energy Finance Assistant Director Angela Dorsey, who has been closely involved with all UT energy finance activities?

I take this opportunity to congratulate you on what I believe is, at least to me, your new title.

Dear Kathy & Darren, I've spoken with Marcelo Parra here in New York regarding phone recording for the Enron Metals offices. The RAC group insists that recording is done ASAP and I need to report back to Marcelo the install dates of the equipment in Montreal and St. Louis. If you have such info or know who is responsible, please let me know. I understand that we are several months away from the installation of a new switch with central recording capability here at the 520 Madison office in New York. As an alternative, I can install a refurbished digital recording system for 24 telephones on the Concentrates and Metals trading desks for approximately $45,000. The recording device will be located in our telephone room and is not accessible to the traders. All equipment is in stock and we can have the desks recorded by December 1. I need a quick approval since the vendor will only hold refurbished equipment until Friday afternoon for us. Barry, can you give the OK? Also, recording for the Chicago office should not be an issue since the Enron Metals people are moving to the existing Enron Chicago facilities before the end of the year.

Hi Ted,

I had Sally blocked off from 11:00 to 1:00 for lunch this Thursday, but we will need to change time to 11:30 instead - a meeting that she must attend has been scheduled until 11:30. Sally says it would be great if you and Tim pick her up out front at that time. Do you have a cell phone number? I will make reservations for the 3 of you at Irma's.

Also, I talked to Cathy in Mike McConnell's office about lunch June 20. Unfortunately, he will be in S. Korea during that time. Per Cathy, he is making 3 overseas trips this month (S. Korea, Brazil & Japan) so he will be quite busy. She did say for you to keep trying.

If not, Tim Rasnic, of the J.C.Penney Leadership Program will be able to go, as he is going to be in Houston that day and also needs to visit with Sally about the upcoming Fall events with Enron. I am hoping I can rearrange my schedule and joining them. If not, I know I will be in Houston again on June 19 & 20 and will reschedule with Sally if she is available on those dates (please check her calendar and let me know). I will let you know about next Thursday soon as I find out.

Lunch on August 2nd works well for me. I have it on the calendar. I am planning a cook-out at my house on Sunday, July 30th for Enron summer interns from OU and recent hires from OU. Mike McConnell and his wife plan to join us. If you are in Houston, I hope that you will be able to join us too. Hi Sally and Mike, Talked to Lexi Elliott and she told me about you all having lunch with Blake, Clay and Michelle the other day. I know that meant alot to them and only solidified their desire to work for Enron. Thanks for taking time out of your busy schedules to meet with them.

Just wanted to let you know that I am scheduled to meet with Lexi and Shelly Jones on Wednesday, August 2nd at 11:00 a.m. We will then be going to lunch. Would like for both of you to join us if possible. I will bringing Brenda Peters, who is with OU Career Services, down with me. She wanted to come down with me and see Enron and meet both Lexi and Shelly, especially Lexi, since she is the new OU contact for Enron. Brenda wants to make sure everything is on schedule for this Fall recruiting. Lexi will be coming to OU in early August to tour the campus and I will introduce her to Tim Rasnic (JC Penney Leadership Program Director) and Dean Evans along with other Department Heads in the Price College of Business. That way she should feel comfortable when Enron comes to campus in October. If you are available and would like to join us why don't you either let me know or else have your assistants contact Lexi and let her know. If you would like to suggest a time and place to meet, please feel free to do so.

If you can't make lunch and need to visit with me about anything, let me know and I will arrange my schedule to meet with you. I will be in Houston that entire week making my rounds.

Hope your summers have been going well and have been able to spend time with your families.

Look forward to hopefully having lunch on August 2nd.

Take care.

Everyone,

This is what CGI forwarded me this morning with regards to a potential partnering agreement with Enron to respond to the RFP sent out for development of Back-Office systems. The idea is for us to license our "source-code" for the mid/back-office technology to CGI, who will then tweak it to build a system for their customers. At this point in time, we have not made any commitments, whatsoever, and are planning to do so only if this can be done with minimal hand-holding from us (given our other project commitments).

Please read through the Teaming Agreement at your earliest so we can all discuss any revisions you may want made.

As CGI will be responding to this RFP today with potential support from ENW (i.e. our code would be one of the key selling points), they had requested some basic information on Enron, which we provided to them late last week. This will be bundled with company specific information for CGI, that will be provided as part of the Response to RFP.

Beth, I've also left a message for you with Blanca. Lets talk when you get a chance so we can discuss this and other things sometime today.

Greg,

Two quick comments. Mutual non-solicitation agreement will not be accepted by Enron. It is corporate policy not to enter into these agreements because they are unenforceable internally (we are just too large and recruit too many people to track them). Certainly, we will not use the partnership to recruit your people, but can not commit to that in writing.

Second, the term of the confidentiality agreement is quite long (3 years). In the high tech world this is considered a quite long. I think our attorneys like to keep these shorter (again for tracking purposes). If we can make it 2 years and remove the mutual non-solicitation, I will forward it.

Kristin, I spoke with Rick Joseph today. The September 10 Lyceum is to the 3rd Year PPA students. This is the overall Enron presentation. He said that most of the "firms" presenting at the Lyceums are bringing more than one person to present the different aspects of the company. He said that in his original correspondence he sent an evaluation form that gives the points of interest to the students. He also said that many of the "firms" presenting use a video about the company. He said that the students would be interested in knowing where Enron is going and what the long range goals are for the company. They would also benefit from knowing the skills that are important to those seeking employment with Enron.

I hope this helps. The September 12 Lyceum is to the 4th year PPA students and Rick Causey has committed to that presentation.

Hi Rick, I'm in the process of planning the U.T. 2001 Fourth Year PPA Fall Lyceum series scheduled for every Wednesday in the fall. As you know, this series brings to campus distinguished practitioners who address our 4th Year PPAs (the equivalent of college seniors) on current issues in accounting and current trends in business. Last year, you delivered a presentation in this Lyceum on "Global Equity Markets." I'd like to invite you back this year to make a presentation on Wednesday, September 12, from 4:00 to 5:15 p.m. (new time) in UTC 2.102A. This presentation would be in addition to the Enron company presentation scheduled for Monday, September 10 at the same time and place. Please let me know (1) if the Wednesday date is convenient for you, and (2) the topic you would like to discuss. Also let me know if I can facilitate your presentation in any way. For further clarification, none of the agency agreements have been executed, although all (except for Korea) have been sent out for review and are still at that stage. When they have been finalized, we need to get a final internal sign off prior to execution.

When we took over the metals business there were indeed several agents who were more like employees in the way that they acted. There were also many ad hoc or minor agents. The level of documentation varies considerably. We have taken two actions on this, depending on the circumstances

1. They have been integrated as employees and HR have either issued or are in the process of issuing normal Enron employment contracts
2. We are performing a complete review of all agency agreements that exist (there are many of them, but only a few are the situation that you describe below) from source documents or payments. This is the basis on which we are revising and issuing full enron contracts or informing the agent that we will no longer require their services. Suitable standard contracts are currently being reviewed by Houston legal dept. For key agents we are also offering FCPA training as part of our overall remote office FCPA training program.

The people copied above are those in London who are directly involved in this process

Rob - commercial lead (reporting to Joe Gold) Tina - tax Paul - legal Melanie - HR

Naomi-

Hello, I work in Market Risk, and am involved in the Doorstep process. During review of some visits last year, it came to our attention that Metals evidently has some type of "sales agent" arrangements, whereby they engage various individuals to represent them internationally, but without any agreements in writing.

I'd like to confirm the circumstances when these arrangements are used, how many Metals offices use this, and whether this is in fact something outside the Metals realm. Would you please elaborate on this subject?

Shona Wilson said you were the one to talk to.

Thank you,

Inja,

Per the conference call today I am confident that we can add value to the Commodity Logic Project. I base this on the success of Enron Online and Valtech's role of supporting that effort. Currently, We have the Architect (David Jayakaran) that designed the presentation framework for EOL available as part of the team. I mention this because of the obvious synergy between the EOL framework and Commodity Logic. As discussed David will meet with you on Wednesday. The action items I owe you are the Enron negotiated rate structure and profiles for consultants that could start immediately. The daily rates are senior consultants at $2,000 and consultants at $1,750. The profiles are attached for your review. Please contact me if you have any questions.

I will mail the checks and money to Barb. There was one other item that I was going to deliver to you. One of the women who had prepared snacks for the last general meeting turned in the recipe for her pumpkin dip. She said that many people were asking her for it, and if we had room, maybe we could publish it in the newsletter. I told her that we would have to see how much official material we have from the chapter and if we wind up with a needed "filler". Let me know if you do need a filler, and I can send the recipe via an attachment. Feel free to call me at work - 713-853-5926. I have the recipe in my briefcase.

Glad Nancy got back to you on the food drive - or lack there of!

At fall regional training, I attended a Communications session - they provided a list by month of desired national information (from the national website) to be included in our newsletters. Had planned to drop that off as well. I am still at home right now, but I can fax that to you when I get to the office a little later.

Thanks again for all of your hard work!!! --Sally

Sally - sorry I didn't get back to you tonight; it was late when we got home from post-volleyball dinner and then the kids were on the phone - and internet until now. It's been a long day to start the week!

We have a lot of ads this month (9)! They will be "scattered" throughout the newsletter rather than all being placed on the back page, as they won't all fit in the half page. If you'd like to mail the checks to Barb Lindsey (5523 Grosvenor Square, Houston 77069), that would be fine. I don't keep the pink sheets once the newsletter is mailed out.

Nancy sent me a message that there will not be an official food drive at the Holiday Tea, and no announcement in the newsletter. She indicates that we'll focus on the book drive for The Bridges, and Adopt-A-Family, and that, with the Sr. Presentation fees and tea fees all due in one month, it would be too much to do a food drive, too. However, she said that if food items arrive we'll deliver them to NAM or TEAM. If that's not still correct, please let me know.

Thanks! Robin

A TOAST TO TEXAS! As early as 1900, March 2 became a day for Texas Exes to observe as a holiday. A great deal of tradition and sentiment surrounds the celebration on the local level. In that year, The Ex-Students' Association adopted a resolution that: "Whenever two Texas Exes shall meet on March 2, they shall sit and break bread and pay tribute to the institution that made their education possible." UT alumni all over the world have followed this tradition. Wherever you are on March 2, 2001, we hope you'll join us in a Texas "toast": To our State, whose founders made our education possible; To Texas Exes who have provided generations of leadership; And to the proud tradition of continued excellence of The University of Texas. After meeting with the AEP and Enron management team yesterday a decision was made to close the HPL sale on June 1st. Verbal approval from the DOJ has been received with the written documentation to follow next week. The pigging of the A/S line has been completed and no additional major damage has been found.

Now it's up to us to execute and get this done.

Ed: Please get with Romeo and decide on the best time to make the Pipeline change within POP's. You may want to do this right after sending your latest HPL nom for May today. Then after the switch we probably need to send another EDI file to make sure everything is OK for HPL.

This evening we should kick off the replication push of the transport contracts into POPS. That way AEP/HPL should be ready to start bidweek next week.

Please let me know if anyone has any questions. - Tommy

After a few meetings, several emails and some testing here is the plan for cutting over POPS to recognize AEP/HPL CP ID# 95005 as the owner of the pipeline HPL.

On the evening of Friday, May 18th: Switch the pipeline within POPS to be AEP/HPL or CP ID 95005. Switch the Pipeline ID within Global Facilities to be 95005 effective with 6-01 -01 gas day. Matt will go into Unify and change the pipeline owner table to recognize CP ID 95005 as the owner effective the 5-19-01 gas day. This will allow nominations for the rest of the month to go to CP ID 95005 within POPS. The duns numbers will stay as they are. CP # 1321 will keep the current duns. CP# 95005 will keep the dummy duns.

Please keep in mind the following facts related to the cut over: The Unify conversion to SQL Server is scheduled for the weekend of June 9th. The AEP Settlements changes will not be moved into production until that time. Once the cut over is made retroactive noms before that date will have to be kept in sync manually between MOPS and POPS. EDI for retroactive nominations will not work after the switch. Nominations going forward for both HPL and AEP HPL will work fine through EDI. By going with the 18th date we give Logistics more time to clean up the past days in case something was missed. No AEP/HPL transport contracts will replicate into POPS until we switch the Pipe ID within POPS to 95005. By cutting over on the 18th, HPL will have the whole bidweek to prepare the pipe for June 1st. New transport contract for HPL, CP ID 1321, after that date will need to be brought to my attention as we will need to coordinate getting the contract into POPS.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Thanks!

Jenny,

I spoke with Tammy this morning. She explained that the Logistics group sometimes run into connectivity issues when login into the network after hours. She understands our resource constraints, but wanted access to an on-call contact list. We have provided Tammy with the cell phones of all the trader support technicians including Paige Cox, the director. She will distribute that information to her team.

At this time, Tammy and I both agreed that Logistics did not need access to a 24 X 7 Help Desk. We will monitor the requests from her team to see if the need arises.

Kerry,

As you are probably aware, the EES Risk Control organization is moving under Sally as of April 30, 2001. Our initial thought was we would keep all the former EES employees together in a new ENA accounting entity, but have now decided that the Risk Control group needs to be captured as part of Enron NetWorks. These were previously set up under a new ENA company number (#1596). I don't know if within SAP we can simply repoint the profit and cost centers set up below to roll-up under ENW now instead of ENA, if not, we will need five new ones set up as follows:

Executive (Meredith Eggleston)-27101 [Simper, Keith] ,150260 Risk Analytics (Neil Hong)-27102 [Simper, Keith] ,150261 Strategic Operations, Process & Systems (Scott Mills)-27103 [Simper, Keith] 150262 Deal Capture/Confirmation (Meredith Eggleston)-27104 [Simper, Keith] ,150263 Global Data Management (Mark Evans)27105 [Simper, Keith] ,150264

We can't wait to see the three of you. Tammy and Tyler will be at home on Wednesday afternoon and will be expecting you whenever they see you. Meagan has drill team practice after school until 4:45 and she drives herself home and Amanda rides the bus home after school, arriving about 4:30.

Mo will be in Houston while you are here. If it still works with your plans, I thought that I would take the day off on Friday, November 3 so that you, Paul, David and I could do something fun with Rebecca and Tyler. The football game is that evening at 7:00. I had also thought about arranging a lunch on Thursday (downtown - Irma's?) either for us with Mo, or even to expand that to include a bunch of ex-First City folks. Mark Wilson, James Scribner, Chuch Randall and Charles Delacey all work here for Enron. We could call MG Shetty, and with you and Mo and me, it would be quite a reunion. Let me know if you would like to do either one of these two things and I will arrange whatever sounds good to you.

This is a note to confirm that we are still on our way. We'll be at Lora and Doug Bonser's house in Austin from Oct 27 to Nov 1. Their number in Austin is 512-892-0418. We are planning on leaving early Wednesday morning and driving via Brenham. Will Tammy and Tyler be home in the afternoon? If not, we could hang out with my friends from Montana until people will be at your house -- Pam and Rob Stephens -- bought a house about 1 mile from you. (They lived in Texas last time we were there, moved back to Montana, and I just found out that they are back in Texas for the long term -- small world.)

I have directions that I got from the web to your house -- once I get in the general area, I can find it.

See you soon! Stephanie

Are you aware or should you be aware of this.....

There are several issues with this, the main one being that we get the biggest bang for our "gives" to IBM..

It seems the way this is set up, IBM will piecemeal us and get a lot of work without a significant "get" for Enron (ie an outsourcing or a bandwidth or other deal)

Are there IT and Process issues? Is Sally involved. Maybe they are self-contained and none of this is anyone's business.

IBM is to produce a rough set of figures on operations and build out by May 18. Three weeks later they are to produce a set of refined costs. Master agreement is to be signed by May 22nd. Final agreement is to be signed by June 9.

Sally, Thank you for your continued support of Avistar. As you probably know Brent Price has approved additional Avistar equipment for his direct reports in Houston, London and Singapore. We will begin to install these additional desktop conferencing units within the next couple weeks. I know we had also discussed a possible deployment to Stace and Jeff's groups. I am in Houston this week if you would like to discuss their possible project and get a sense of the budget requirements. This is Cara's assistant, Cara White. Cara asked me to send you her itinerary:

Cara will be in New York for a week.

Thursday through Saturday, she will stay at the Edison Hotel (212) 840-5000

Sunday through Wednesday, she will stay at the Grand Hyatt (she doesn't know the telephone no. - and I am such a busy personal assistant, I don't have time to look it up.)

Also, until Sunday, you may try her husband's cell phone (512) 657-1555

You can always try Cara's cell phone (512) 970-0608 - but she hasn't really figured out how to retrieve messages yet - so you'll probably have better luck leaving a message at the hotel.

Cara will return on Thursday evening on American Flight #1669, arriving at 4:25 P.M.

As you are aware, the SAP Financial Systems will be implemented for the Enron Gas Pipeline Group, Enron North America and Enron Energy Services companies on July 1, 2000. To effectively transfer the invoice processing from the legacy MSA system to the SAP system, the following dates should be followed:

June 23: Invoice processing on the MSA system will stop except for emergency payments, wire transfers and ACHs.

June 26: Invoice processing on the SAP system will begin for the GPG, ENA and EES companies. Accounts Payables will input invoices into the SAP system starting on this date, but checks will not be printed until the first payment run is processed on July 5.

June 28: Last day to input employee expense reports with ACH in the MSA system.

June 29: Last day to input emergency payments and wire transfers in the MSA system.

June 30: Accounts Payable to clean up outstanding open balances in the MSA system.

July 5: All invoices will be entered into SAP and the first payment run is processed.

Please remember, all invoices sent to Accounts Payable on or after June 23 must have SAP general ledger coding applied to the invoice.

Y2K - Feb. 29

File	beck-s/all_documents/2572.

We are approaching February 29, 2000, which is generally regarded as the second most critical Year 2000 rollover date, second only to the millennium rollover. A year divisible by 100 is not a leap year, unless it is divisible by 400. As a consequence, some applications that were programmed incorrectly will believe the date is March 1, which may cause system errors.

During the millennium rollover Enron encountered Y2K related issues only with the bottom tier of applications and embedded systems that were ranked as "ordinary" or "low" in our triage processes. The problems that did arise were few and were quickly fixed. This is exactly what we were planning for and is a testament to a job done exceptionally well by all.

In consideration of the few and minor problems Enron encountered on January 1, 2000, our procedures for the 29th will be curtailed. The goals for this period are to validate that all mission critical applications and embedded systems are functioning normally and to ensure that all problems are reported through the project office. We are not planning to reopen the Millennium Management Center nor do we plan to operate outside of normal business hours.

Please ensure that each group that reported to you for the millennium rollover run through the same Y2K checklists for critical systems. For this exercise, however, we anticipate them reporting back to you on an exception basis only.

If problems do occur, the nature, details and planned ready dates should be forwarded to Andrew Parsons (713 853-6665) or Bob Johansen (713 853-6842), who will report to management and monitor events. Also, be sure to route any inquiries from the press through the same public relations contacts that were used on January 1st. The key contact at Corp Public Relations is Karen Denne (713 853-9757).

Thank you for your cooperation,

Andrew 713 853-6665

The summer reception has been scheduled at Jalapeno's (same as last year), 2702 Kirby Drive (just south of Westheimer), 713-524-1668 for July 26 from 5:30 to 8 pm. I should be receiving the menu options this week.

Have any of you received sponsorship pledges from your companies? If you have, please let me know the company and the amount. We still need some so that we won't have to dip into the reserves. Please also try asking your classmates who work in Houston about their companies sponsoring this event. I am also trying at my end.

If you need to reach me: home: 281-218-6598, cell: 713-703-4312

Thanks for your help,

Glenn.

Hello all! I am Glenn Sprenger, one of the co-chairs of the Houston Graduate Business Network chapter. Arrior forwarded your names to me as students who are willing to help with the summer reception. If you are still interested, please let me know. Also include any ideas you have about the reception. Last year we held it at Jalapenos Mexican restaurant on Kirby just south of Westheimer. It worked really well, but I am open to new suggestions. As far as a date, I was thinking of Wednesday, July 26. This is 3 weeks before orientation so new students should still be in Houston and not in Austin yet. We also would like to get sponsors - more than one is NOT a problem. This reception provides companies an excellent opportunity to introduce themselves FIRST to MBA's entering the program, as well as stay in touch with MBA alumni. Please contact your internship companies and see if they would be interested in being a sponsor this year. We will gladly accept any amount offered, but you might want to start at $1000. We can provide them space to hang a banner and set out brochures explaining their company. Their company representatives will also be invited to socialize at the event. I am looking forward to meeting all of you individually. I may be contacted via email or at 281-218-6598. Please respond soon if you are interested. Thank you for your help, Glenn.

Sally - We are currently scheduled to meet with the bank as listed below. I understand from conversations with Bob that you are going to name a business point person for Tim Proffitt to use going forward. We should be the ones answering the business questions in tomorrow's meeting but it would probably be helpful for the new person to attend the meeting to become familiar with the project requirements/processes and meet the bank contacts. These are the same individuals we worked with when gas receivables were monetized.

To update you on the required information for tomorrow's noon deadline; I have been in contact with gas, power, financial, EGM and EIM through out the day to ensure that all is ready to go. I met with Tim and Chris this afternoon and received a new format for viewing current month data that I have given to all groups and will pass along to the new point person when they are ready.

If you have any questions, please let me know.

Session Thursday, November 1, 11 am

Leslie, Melissa, and Scott:

Callum Sutherland and a few others from CIBC will be at the Enron Building tomorrow, November 1, at 11 am to begin the due diligence process for Project Spinach. Although the overall schedule is tentative, the sessions will begin with a review of October 2001 and November 2001 physical power. It is anticipated that the review process may last through the early evening. Please let me know as soon as possible if you will not be available from 11 am until 6 pm tomorrow.

It may be beneficial to have an internal meeting before the CIBC meeting. When we receive your data and have looked at it, we will give you a call to decide the best game plan.

It is anticipated that CIBC will want to analyze the data and cover among other topics: Receivables creation Invoicing and collection cycles Price discovery Netting Indicative terms of the standard contract Payment terms Discounts Description of the receivables Number of customers Diversity of obligor types (e.g., industrial, municipal, military) Receivables average size Top obligors Key contracts Amounts outstanding (e.g., average, maximum, minimum) Correlation to commodity prices Invoicing and collection policies, processes, and procedures Auditing - internal and external Account monitoring and management Reporting capabilities and frequencies Portfolio performance Aging profile Historical losses Roll forward evolution Dilution rates and elements Default rates and elements Trends in data (e.g., seasonality, intra-month flux)

As always, please call Tim Proffitt at extension 37819, Marcus Edmonds at extension 34243, or me at extension 33139 if you have any questions, concerns, or suggestions.

We will be providing lunch; let us know if you have any special needs.

Subject: Rollout of ATHENA (Formerly known as the DPR database)

Dear All,

Risk Analytics, has recently finished developing ATHENA (the database that warehouses all of the official DPR data of Enron), which is designed to make your work easier by giving you the following tools and breakdowns:

1. P&L Component Breakdowns ? Hedge Management ? Prudency ? Curve Shift ? New Deals
2. Risk Analysis Tools ? VARs ? Maturity Gap Risk ? Net Open Position ? Daily loss limits

The warehoused information, which is broken down by books and parts (P&L component breakdowns/risk analysis tools), now has the visual aid of numerous bar graphs and pie charts used to represent the information listed above - provided to you at the touch of a button. These charts are not only very easy to understand, but will be helpful in your daily work analyzing trading information.

Now that all commodity groups are performing additional analysis and providing reports other than P&L and positions to both MRM RAC and commercial departments, the tools provided by ATHENA have been proven to be extremely useful.

ATHENA makes analysis of the time trend of data an effortless process, as it has warehoused data for the past year for each commodity.

The rollout of ATHENA is currently underway, according to the following timeline:

? From now until Friday November 10th, access to the database is being given to the beta testers (testers already chosen). ? Monday November 13th - First instructional training class from 4-5pm. Conference room 3270. ? Thursday November 16th - Second instructional training class from 3-4pm. Conference room 3270. ? Subsequent classes will be scheduled depending on need. ? Production users will have access to the database within the few weeks following November 16th.

Each of these sessions will hold up to 15 participants, and attendees are taken on a first come first serve basis. Please contact Pamela Sonnier (ext. 37531) to sign up for one of these training sessions.

We expect that all business controllers will want to have access to ATHENA. Additionally, there may be other employees in your group who need access. Please send all requests for access to ATHENA to Maria Teresa Aguilera-Peon (ext. 35257), Jennifer Nguyen (ext. 57590), or Eugenio Perez (ext. 35828)

For further information on ATHENA, or to set up a one on one demonstration, call Eugenio Perez (X35828), Maria Teresa Peon (X35257) or Jennifer Nguyen (X57590).

Best regards and looking forward to working with you,

One of Market Risk's primary responsibilities is to review Enron's trading activities and provide feedback to management, and management's expectation is that this is feedback and analysis is provided at the beginning of the Houston trading day. Global Risk Management Operations in Houston is now providing Market Risk with a Enron Consolidated Preliminary DPR prior to 8 a.m. Houston time, for use in Market Risk's morning meeting where we review all of Enron's trading activities from the prior day. The only information missing from this is the UK, and I understand we do not receive the London DPR until 10:30a.m, 4:30pm your time. I'm sure you're working toward obtaining a final DPR earlier in the day, but meanwhile, we'd like to obtain a preliminary DPR that Global Ops can consolidate for Houston management's use first thing in the morning, as decisions need to be made each day based on Enron's consolidated exposure, etc.. We understand they're preliminary, but we work off preliminary #s from Houston, and I expect with the 6 hour time difference, your preliminary #s will be much firmer than ours. We can start with just P/L and VaR, so it's not that many #s we need. I'm hoping when we get the RisktRAC feeds complete we'll be able to see positions earlier as well.

Please let us know when we can begin receiving this information.

Revised Hdct. Spreadsheet

Sender	sally.beck@enron.com
Recipients	[mark.pickering@enron.com', 'greg.piper@enron.com']
File	beck-s/sent_items/527.

Have updated spreadsheet for known data tonight.

THESE THINGS NEED TO BE REVIEWED AND POSSIBLY CHANGED:

Had Perlman's total numbers from today, which she did no subdivide into EA, EIM and EGM numbers. Made assumption that numbers from Sunday's spreadsheet for Beth's EGM and EIM totals stood, and backed into EA numbers by simply taking her total minus Sunday's EGM and EIM numbers. You will want to gut check this with Beth.

Had Jenny's current total headcount (546) and her reductions to contractors and FTE's. Didn't have detail on her contractor versus FTE numbers after reductions. Just assumed 100 contractors, remaining FTE's. You will need to get that detail from Jenny to correctly reflect her Revised Headcount.

There was a bust in numbers that I had for Commodity Logic Development. Gros gave me the starting number of 46 (contractors and FTE's - but without current breakdown). His reductions were 6 contractors and 8 FTE's, which should have left a revised total headcount of 32. But I wrote down a revised total headcount of 24 for this group. Off by 8, so I increased the number of contractor cuts to 14 to make the math work. Please go over details with Tom and make corrections as needed.

Didn't have confirmed starting total headcount for ISC. Spreadsheet with his FTE names gives a count of 129, so I assumed that he has 50 contractors to come up to the spreadsheet starting number of 179. Allan only reduced by 3 FTE's and if he plans to reduce contractors I did not have that info. So all other numbers for the ISC are simply forced. Please review with Allan and make corrections as needed.

Have a nice Thanksgiving with your families. You can reach my by cell phone tomorrow (mine: 713-417-1591 or David's: 713-299-1436) or at my parents' home starting about mid-afternoon (512-458-5510). We will drive back from Austin sometime on Friday. Could come in on Saturday or Sunday, as needed. --Sally

Mike & Sally,

Below is the information that we received on the project. I am still waiting on a cost center from EES for the expense portions to settle to. Look over this information and let me know if you still want to meet to go over this.

This is the EES project, which is set up on EES to capture the capital portion of the project costs. The expense portion should settle to an EES cost center.

The project set up shown below is the Networks project, which I set up, but have not yet released. Only Release 1 is shown below. There are three releases set up, but only the first one will be released at this time. All three releases or phases will look like the other phases.

As you can see below, the capital parts of the project (Solution Definition, Design & Build, and Implementation & Testing) are set up with three basic WBS elements. These elements as described below will settle to the EES project as follows.

Project Coding on Networks Project Settles to EES Project WBS C.300000.01.SD.OU Rel 1 SD Outside Consultants Labor C.007730.22.01 Outside Professional C.300000.01.SD.EN Rel 1 SD Enron Labor C.007730.22.03 Enron Labor C.300000.01.SD.OE Rel 1 SD Other Expenditures C.007730.22.05 Other Expenditure

C.300000.01.HW Hardware Purchases C.007730.24.01 Hardware C.300000.01.SW Software Purchases C.007730.24.02 Software

This will allow the costs on the Networks project to be tracked in a manor that will support how the charges are settling to EES. So if EES has any questions about the charges we should be able to pull up the detail very quickly.

The following items will settle to an EES cost center since they are expense related. C.300000.01.PI.TR Rel 1 PI Training Dev & Delivery C.300000.01.PI.PI Rel 1 PI Post Implementation Support C.300000.01.PI.GA Rel 1 PI General & Administrative

All eight students that we interviewed for the Enron Scholarship were great and we should actively be sure that we get them on our interview schedules next year when they are in the second year of the MBA program. I don't want to simply leave that to chance by encouraging them to consider us. Karen's letter (noted below) is a good idea, but we should augment that by getting these students names on our radar screen for next year. I will find out who the recruiter is for UT MBA's and I will get copies of the students' resumes and my notes on where they could be a good fit to that recruiter.

I understand your point, but we will have to pass at this time.

We do own an equity stake in Kiodex and that could effect the view as well as we do a significant number of transactions off EnronOnline that would not be captured.

Thanks.

Greg, we've been able to load thousands of EnronOnline trades into our Risk Workbench, and we've correctly run risk reports on them. Might we be of service to Enron by loading ALL the EnronOnline trades into the Risk Workbench, and running our risk reports on the aggregate? I'm thinking that such an independent analysis of at least part of Enron's risk position might answer the requests, expressed among analysts and pundits in the FT, the WSJ, and elsewhere, for greater disclosure.

Everyone is excessively worried about mysterious packages these days. Just as Enron pioneered transparency in the energy markets, Enron can set the gold standard for disclosure of aggregate risk. (I know the other dealers will want to squirm their way out of following suit.) I have supreme confidence in Enron's risk controls, and I'm thinking that an independent measurement of this kind could dispel the market's overblown and baseless fears.

Please let me know your thoughts.

Kind regards Marty

What's the story on this one? Who can best answer the four questions posed by Wanda? How soon can we have answers? Interestingly, I have a 4:00 PM meeting today with Rick Buy, David Port, Wanda Curry, Bill Bradford and Debbie Brackett (rescheduled from last Friday re: Project Greenlight, due to Buy's schedule). I would like to be more informed than they are at 4:00. Thanks. --Sally

Sally,

FYI. This is an example of the issues associated with the risk feeds and the need to document the universe of books that should be sent to RisktRAC on a daily basis. Both Todd and Shona are working to reconcile RisktRAC positions to the source liquids books, identify the omitted books and make corrections. The total volume difference is 3.4 million barrels (not certain this is accurate, but material under any circumstance). I am also not certain how long these positions have not been included. I believe this issue is limited to VAR only, and that CreditAg has been reporting the credit exposures.

It would be a good idea to dissect this particular problem to understand the scope of what we need for Project Green Light. If you would like to discuss this further, let me know. I would like to ask for the following, 1) how long have these books not been included in RisktRAC, 2) what is the impact on V@R, 3) total volumes not reported, and 4) reason for omission (I believe it had to do with the portfolio hierarchy). Please, let me know what you think.

Is there anything they can do that we can't or are they just offering independence? Given our equity stake in Kiodex, they're about as independent as LJM.

Thanks for forwarding the note to me. I have asked Shona and Brent to get back with me on answers to your questions. Shona's team did move this weekend to ECS (as did I), and I am not sure how much additional chaos this has added to her life for today! I will follow up with her mid -afternoon on details.

I agree with you that this serves as a good case study - underscores indeed that we need to start some of the projects under Project Greenlight instead of continuing to document problems. By definition, to arrive at complete and accurate transfer daily of information from all source systems to RisktRAC, we must know the universe of all books and spreadsheets. --Sally

I told the scholarship winners that within the next few weeks, we would like to meet with them for lunch or dinner before the semester is over. So since we are on the subject, do you have plans to be in Austin any time soon? I will coordinate the students around your schedule. Also, if you think there are others that should join the smaller luncheon/dinner, let me know. I thought about asking Traci Warner and Billy Lemmons since they are new to the AA program.

Are we going to do anything for the students before fall semester? The dinner with Dean May and others from the University is great in the fall. But last year, we had thought about just a small lunch with the students and a few from Enron. This can be simple and we don't have to coordinate around the schedule of any UT faculty or staff. But it does allow Enron to have a more immediate follow up with the scholarship recipients to celebrate their being chosen. --Sally
