Dear Attorney General,

Re: 19 December 2001 ltr. subj: "Complaint Against Enron," from Office Of Attorney General, Jeffrey M. Dikman, Assistant Attorney General, Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. A copy is provided for your convenience (as item 6) via the site index page at:

<<http://members.fortunecity.com/corruptioningovernment/>>

The referenced letter stated, "The Florida State Board of Administration, which administers Florida's public pension plans, will be seeking to be appointed lead plaintiff in the pending Texas class action against Enron and others."

Such action appears to be joining to administer a death blow to Enron stockholders as a service to International Organized Crime whose agents, as Wall Street Market Operators, have severely and extensively watered Enron and other securities through the sale of bogus, counterfeit receipts. Whereas, the real responsible entities (in the case of Enron) are the New York Stock Exchange officers and specialists serving those profiting via the secret omnibus accounts through which funds from the sale of bogus, counterfeit receipts are distributed to secret unidentified parties. The existence of those secret omnibus accounts has been documented in US Congressional Reports.

Certain officers of Enron Corporation obviously have been privy to certain aspects of the aforecited illicit activities and deliberately helped to set up Enron Corporation for bankruptcy. In doing so, they were privy to planned negative manipulation of Enron securities prices and rewarded by early and profitable sales of securities held by them.

Again, may I caution against actions detrimental to Enron stockholders while transferring blame and liability to the Corporation and naive officers (fallguys) thereof while ignoring the real criminal parties whose actions are ultimately robbing all citizens.

Sincerely,

Mr. Dana E. Brown Looksee@rocketmail.com <mailto:Looksee@rocketmail.com?subject='What Every Corporate Executive, Investor, And Citizen Should Know About Wall Street.'>

Dear Senator Dorgan,

Why Is Government Protecting The Real Thieves? The sale of counterfeit securities is the vehicle for blatant thievery of Enron and other securities!

Evidence Of Counterfeiting: The fact that short sold receipts are never issued by the represented public company; in simple terms, this means they are bogus, counterfeit receipts representing shares of legitimate stocks or bonds. Falsified publicly reported data then helps to conceal the malicious scam.

Who Is Behind This Counterfeiting Operation: How it's done, why it's done, and those protecting it may surprise many. Remember, when the Public is buying the Thieves are selling opposite the public while often holding price down to sell even more ... especially when legitimate shares are not available.

Deliberately Engineered economic hard times and bankruptcies are sure to follow. The Thieves are not going to buy back their bogus receipts in a legitimate market ... they're protected and the laws are ignored as they share illicit fortunes via secret unaudited omnibus accounts. It's all in US Congressional reports.

Jennie,

When you get in tomorrow, could you please check whether the direct flight on the 15th cleared. If not, please advise which flight path I'm currently cleared on.

I don't want to lose the return home through Moscow on the 31st (waitlisted also for 29th or 30th); but I may also need to return immediately after my court date from Almaty on Dec 23 (in such case my husband would fly back to Moscow to pick up our daughter after the 1st of the year). I would like to make such a reservation is possible.

I think you can probably let all the other waitlisted items go for me.

Please call me when you get a chance.

Jennie - This looks okay if I wait for my husband or Liz to go on the 20th -- although I think the return would need to be extended a day or so.

Could you also see about if I am traveling alone and wanted to change my ticket to leave Sat. I was searching the Internet and it looks like the Lufthansa flight is still available on Sat.

I need to make some quick decisions about what I'm doing tomorrow.

A Must have for ANY Energy professional!

Dear Shelley Corman

Energy Argus' Power Plant Outages service now comes complete with real-time updates, sent to you immediately via instant messenger. Now, not only do you get to search and query the Argus site of plants information, including:

Nuclear units; Fossil-fired units; New generation; Existing capacity;

You now also get instant updates sent by messenger to you - on the platform of your choice - so can act on the news virtually as it happens.

Who need this information - and why?

Analysts and traders need this information: Many of the new proposed plants that were expected to come on line are being cancelled or delayed - meaning that supply will tighten and operating costs will narrow. Each plant outage now has a more severe effect - spiking prices and decreasing supply.

Energy Argus' Power Outages updates give you instant notice of these outages so you can prepare immediately and determine ramifications on power and fuel prices.

Power industry vendors: Outages mean opportunities - immediate notification means you get your foot in the door first.

Greetings from Another Kidsave Host Family

Sender	shelley.corman@enron.com
Recipients	['lgras91577@aol.com']
File	corman-s/sent_items/147.

Liz,

I'm not sure if we met either time at the Austin airport this summer. My husband and I hosted 4-year old Alina, part of the same Taraz group as your child. We miss her terribly and are counting the days until we can bring her home. We're certainly not looking forward to travel at this time, and even less happy about leaving our 6-year old son home while we are out of country, but we are resolved to bring Alina home -- the sooner, the better.

Based on conversations with Ginger and Chris, it sounds like we may face the travel adventure at the same time -- although I'm not sure when.

We have completed our dossier (although I haven't sent the originals to Ginger); completed our home study & sent into INS recently; and we've already done the INS fingerprinting. So I guess the next steps are INS approval, shipping stuff off to Kazakhstan, and getting our Kazakhstan visas.

One of the hardest parts of the Kidsave program is not being able to communicate with the kids when they return. She is in the Ulan orphanage in Taraz. Alina speaks only Kazak, no Russian, so I'm not sure how I'd communicate with her long distance even if I had an address or phone number. Fortunately I have received periodic emails from Larissa, the escort that came to Houston with the children this summer. Her husband, Sergei, has been to visit the children in Taraz & she sent me a picture of Alina.

Sorry to ramble so. I'm anxious to talk to you about your child, your travel plans, possibilities for hiring an escort, etc. Please feel free to call or email me anytime. Here is my contact info.

Unfortunately, with her being a non-employee she will need to get a temp badge everyday. The other option would be to have her sign in as a visitor and have an escort. I will let the Security Kiosk know that she will be coming that week and to issue a temp badge. Thanks

Does that mean Rita will need to go through security every day? My preference is to give her a temporary badge or activate her old Enron badge for the full week.

What I would like to do is give Rita a temp badge every day. Do you see a problem with this?

The most ability is responsibility. Nothing happens until someone steps forward and says, "You can count on me."

From: Zadow, Raetta Sent: Tuesday, February 26, 2002 2:45 PM To: Holly Strong/Enron Communications@ENRON Cc: Zadow, Raetta; Rita.Bianchi@dynegy.com Subject: Access Enron Bldg - week of March 18 thru March 24

Holly, I work for Northern Natural Gas Company and in March we are going to be working on a rate refund for our customers. Usually when we do this, we need the help of Rita Bianchi who was a Northern employee until February 1, 2002 when she became a Dynegy employee. I was wondering if we could get Rita's badge (#40024) activated for the time that she will need to be down here to help with the rate refund which will be from March 18 thru March 24. She will need access to the 42nd floor which is the floor that I work on plus the 40th floor which is the floor that our IT people work on. Please let me know if we can get this to work since that would make it so much easier for her to come and go for the time that she will be down here with us.

Thanks for your help,

Raetta

Power Generation Asset and Portfolio Management Conference

March 26-28 2002, Atlanta, Georgia

OVERVIEW

This conference will highlight the commonalties and common applications between the asset management processes used throughout the enterprise. The conference will emphasize the need to link the physical power generation asset management processes to the activities and processes of the trading and marketing process. The processes of Asset management will be addressed from three distinct perspectives, first, the long-term perspective of portfolio developers, second the more medium term perspective of maintenance/system planners and third the conference will link short term issues of the trading & marketing departments. The purpose is to show how these processes can be integrated to the individual assets (plants) in order to provide consistent and profitable strategies for the generation asset owner.

Ancillary Services Conference

April 10-12, 2002, Denver, Colorado

OVERVIEW

As more and more regions in North America open wholesale markets to competition, the importance of ancillary services is increasingly recognized. These services, generally provided by the same generators that produce the competitive energy product, are vital for both commerce and reliability.

This conference will cover the key engineering, economic, market, and policy issues associated with these functions. The conference will also present updates on the status of the various markets (including market design and operation problems and their solutions, successes, prices and costs) in North America. These markets include New England, New York, PJM, ERCOT, and Alberta. Developing markets, such as Ontario, will also be covered. The market designs encompass issues such as day-ahead scheduling, real-time operation, integration with the markets for energy and congestion, measuring the real-time delivery of these services, the operating costs to produce these services, and the potential for customer loads to supply these services.

The brochure for the Ancillary Services Conference, April 10-12, 2002, Wyndham Hotel - Tech Center, Denver, CO can be obtained by clicking on the link below:

I was talking to Anita this morning and she was asking me if I knew what games we were going to at spring training - she heard an ad or something for it and it made it sound fun. I think they are trying to decide what to do for Spring Break. They me be planning a Florida Trip. What should I be telling her???? So far I have been very vague about it, but at some point I'm going to have to be more specific. I don't want to hurt her feelings, but I'd rather not spend the whole trip with them.

Hope you are doing well. I haven't made it home to a football game yet this year -- although I guess that has been a blessing.

No, we live about 2-3 mi. off I-10. It is really easy to get to our house from Austin by taking 71 to I-10 east.

Here is a turn by turn:

Exit 1-10 at Highway 6 (17 mi. West of Downtown Houston).

Go South on Hwy 6 to the 3rd stop light (Chevron station on SE corner). Take right onto Briarforest Drive. Take first left onto Briarhome (Meadowbriar subdivision). We live on Scarborough Fair -- third street off Briarhome. Our home is 2-story red brick & is in the NE corner.

Also last night I emailed Sergei a brief note regarding what Ginger was telling us yesterday. I didn't want to jump ranks or push him for an earlier date -- but I wanted to make certain that he knew that all our paperwork is in.

Hi Shelley,

Thanks for your message. The best way to reach me is really at work (this address), but I do check the home account a few times a week.

Anyway, how are you? It must be wierd seeing your own company in the news everyday. Kim said that you were in a good spot to rebound if you needed to when the dust settles. That is a relief to us.

As far as the adoption stuff.....we still have a long way to go. Our home study is being written up this week; we've finished the interviews and have all of our documents into the social worker. We are hopefully going to get notification from the INS to get our fingerprints done within the next week or so. We're hoping the INS stuff goes quickly, because that is really the only major thing we have left to get done.

We don't know where in Kazakhstan we're gonna go yet, but, we are about a month from getting our name on the referral list; we'll probably find out possible locations then. I don't know how much Kim relayed to you, but we're hoping for a healthy infant, and the rest doesn't matter as far as preferences. We are pretty excited already.

How is Alina? (spelling?) Kim's description of her sounds wonderful. You guys must be having a terrific time getting to know each other again after a few months separation.

Lets definitely stay in touch. Maybe the next time you come through DC we can have you over or meet somewhere.

Anyway, say hi to everyone for us.

Love,

I spoke to Michael Goldenberg at FERC, and the hold up with the issuance of the GISB final rule (RM96-1-019) is at OMB, not at FERC. The Office of Management and Budget has to assess, then sign off on, the rule as not constituting a major rule, which they are expected to do but haven't yet.

Michael was hoping to hear back from OMB today or tomorrow, and issue the rule right after that.

Suzanne,

Next time you talk to Liz Gras would you pass along my phone number and email. I am anxious to correspond with her and see where she is in the process and her thoughts about travel plans.

I know that the adoption agency wants to group the Taraz families together for court dates/travel. One of the other Houston families (Swangos) has made progress on their dossier and turned in their INS approval. The other (the Westbrooks) haven't yet applied for passports or begun their dossier. I want to be very supportive and accomodate all the families -- after all the goal line is home for all these children. At the same time, I need to form realistic concepts of likely timeframes for our family. I think talking to Liz will be helpful on this front.

Thanks for all your help. After you make the homestudy changes noted below you will resend to Gwyn? Then she'll send to me to send to INS? Probably sometime next week?

I'm planning to take a vacation day tomorrow -- and the type A person that I am, I'm just afraid that I'll miss some important action that I should be taking. You can reach me on my cell at 713-857-2103 if you need to reach me tomorrow.

Dear Suzanne, I reviewed the homestudy you emailed to Ginger and it looks good. Please change the address for Across the World to :399 Taylor Boulevard, Suite 102, Pleasant Hill, California 94523. That is the address for the main office in Calif. I did notice that MARITAL was spelled marial in the marital section. I'm sure your spellcheck probably caught it. I noticed that you mentioned the "Republic of Kazakhstan" quite a few times. I'm not sure if that is the correct name of the country. I will check and let you know if you need to change it. There is only one other thing that needs to be changed. It is located about the last paragraph of recommendation where you state that "the family is excited to experience the Russian culture". That statement would be very offensive to the Kazakhstan officials if you were to mention Russian culture. These people are not part of Russia—they are Kazakhstani- and a very proud people. So you could just change the word Russian to Kazakhstan. They do not like to be referred to as Russian. Let me know if you have any questions. I left you a message to call me but I don't think you need to call back unless you have questions. Please make sure that there is a current agency license at the back of the homestudy when the family sends their homestudy to me. I will be the one helping Ginger go thru everything so if you have questions feel free to call Ginger or me. Chris

A-4: Northeast RTO Update, AD02-12 (with numerous N.E. RTO subdockets)

Gas Items

G-1: El Paso Natural Gas Co., RP00-336-002 [ONEOK Energy Marketing & Trade, EP00-139-000; Aera Energy, RP01-484-000; Apache Nitrogen Products, RP01-486-000]: This proceeding centers on issues of capacity allocation and constraints on El Paso's pipeline system and the differing solutions offered by EOC (east of California) FR (full requirements) and CD (contract demand) shippers.

G-9: Sea Robin Pipeline, CP95-168-006: Following the Commission's Order on Remand establishing separate transportation and gathering offshore systems, Sea Robin filed separately stated rates for both the jurisdictional and non-jurisdictional systems. The rates were protested; parties have filed a settlement which is supported by Staff and has been certified to the Commission by the ALJ. This should be an order on the settlement.

G-12: ANR Pipeline, RP01-612-001/000: ANR filed revised tariff sheets to enable it to use a proposed pro forma Associated Liquefiabiles Agreement to apply to situations which include PCR (hydrocarbons in a liquid state which condense out of the transporter's facilities) and Flash Gas (gaseous hydrocarbons that either vaporize or are from liquefied hydrocarbons), in addition to PTR (Dekatherms removed at a processing plant). Indicated Shippers filed a protest concerning the imbalance procedures that ANR proposes to implement with the pro forma agreement. A technical conference was held on the issues and ANR made a subsequent compliance filing.

C-4: Cove Point LNG, CP01-76-001 et al.: In its December 19, 2001, Order on Rehearing, the Commission established a hearing to address the limited issue of Cove Point's rates for its existing service to Washington Gas, which is not a signatory party to the settlement in this proceeding.

C-7: Policy on Certificates of Public Convenience and Necessity for Gas Transmission Facilities in the Off-shore Louisiana Area: There's no record of this proceeding in any of the FERC information systems.

G-14: Kinder Morgan Interstate Gas Transmission, RP98-53-024/015/021/023: On January 24, 2002, KM filed an Offer of Settlement designed to: (1) extinguish the liability of all working interest owners whose aggregate total liability (principle and interest) as of September 30, 2001 is $80,000 or less; (2) establish the liabilities of the remaining 30 working interest owners, and then reduce such liabilities by the greater of $80,000 or 25%; and (3) extinguish the liability of royalty owners to working interest owners participating in the settlement for refunds of ad valorem taxes, due to the Commission's implementation of the decision of the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit in Public Service Company of Colorado.

Order 637 Proceedings

G-15: Gulf South Pipeline Co., RP00-340 et al.: This is Gulf South's Order 637 proceeding in which the pipeline filed a settlement with FERC that reflects disagreement over the ability for the pipeline to offer segmentation. According to Gulf South, it has filed operational evidence of the reticulated nature of the pipeline system. In light of this evidence and subsequent settlement discussions, Gulf South remains adamant that "Traditional Segmentation" as contemplated in order 637 is not operationally feasible on its system. Instead, Gulf South has proposed a segmentation plan utilizing four virtual points. Further, Gulf South asserts that its discount policy, which excludes IT, satisfies FERC's policy goals as enunciated in CIG and Granite State.

G-4: Black Marlin Pipeline, RP00-335, RP01-414 G-5: Egan Hub Partners, RP00-341, RP01-48 G-6: Enbridge Pipelines (AlaTenn), RP00-401, RP01-4 G-7: Enbridge Pipelines (Midla), RP00-400, RP01-5 G-16: Western Gas Interstate, RP00-461

Coburn, Scott Subject: RE: NBPL BTU issue

The information for Ventura gets transferred from the NBPL SCADA/EFM system directly to PGAS through a file extract and transfer that I do every month. Fred Puetz, Lynn Johnson and Mike Swerczek are the programmers on our side that developed this. Jeff May is the programmer on NNG's side that receives the data. We have had numerous problems over the past several months where PGAS does not reflect the same information we are sending. But Mike Swerczek has confirmed for me that we are sending the correct information -- something seems to be happening in the upload to PGAS. This whole process worked fine before PGAS -- we've been doing this for several years.

From: Miller, Randy Sent: Wednesday, February 27, 2002 5:08 PM To: Steve Klimesh/ET&S/Enron@ENRON Cc: Rice, Randy; Thompson, Charlie; Freeman, John; Harrill, Billi; Cowart, Willie Subject: NBPL BTU issue

Steve, I wasn't sure who all I was suppose to copy on this so if I missed someone please forward this on to them.

First I looked over every daily BTU average from the NBPL Ventura GC from Sept through to date and there are no two days in a row where the BTU value were the same although there were several days where if you rounded the BTU to 1 decimal place they would be the same. I also verified back to September the Ventura GC BTU with the NBPL Glen Ullin GC BTU and our monthly averages for these two GCs have tracked between with 0.1 and 0.4 BTU of each other. So I am confident with the NBPL BTU numbers.

Second after I received the Daily Volume Statement I checked the BTU factors for the days in question against the Ventura BTU average for that day. What I found was that when the statement would show a series of days that the BTU was the same the first day was correct but the rest of the days were not. Although when I took the volume in MCF times the BTU factor listed in the report for the days in question I did not get the same value listed as the MMBTU value. I then took the MCF times the SCADA BTU average and it then calculates correctly for the MMBTU listed.

I spoke with John Freeman and we verified the information in the NBPL SCADA and it is correct and matches up with the Daily Volume statement for MCF and MMBTU but the BTU factor did not match up for the days in question. So I believe the volumes and energy values to be correct it is just the BTU factor listed on the Daily report that is incorrect on some days.

I have listed below some of information out of our SCADA system for a few of the days in question. Do you know how the volume and BTU values get from NBPL to NNG for this statement? The problem may be in the transfer of that data.

RE: Draft Statement on High Nitrogen

Do we want to single out the Keystone I/C, or should we be more generic and state that if/when any interconnecting party refuses to take gas due to nitrogen, we will restrict the offending receipts? Also, what about other areas such as the Hugoton. We have had complaints from Mid-American and Nicor about nitrogen sensitive customers on their systems complaining. sj

Please review the proposed posting concerning the high nitrogen issue with El Paso, and feel free to make suggestions or comments. Comments need to be submitted by Wednesday October 17th at noon to make sure this get posted to the Web in a timely manner. Contact Penny McCarran ext.5416 or John Buchanan ext. 7429

Thanks: John Buchanan -----Original Message----- From: McCarran, Penny Sent: Monday, October 15, 2001 2:51 PM To: Buchanan, John Cc: Fauchaux, Eric Subject: Draft Statement on High Nitrogen

DRAFT

On October 11, 2001 Northern was informed by El Paso Natural Gas that the nitrogen level in the gas being delivered into El Paso's system at the El Paso/NNG Keystone interconnect (POI # 169) exceeded El Paso's nitrogen tariff specification. El Paso's tariff restrict the nitrogen level in the gas stream to no more than 3%. According to El Paso, the nitrogen level on October 11 at the Keystone interconnect was 3.5%. El Paso refused to allow deliveries from Northern into El Paso on this day.

Northern does not have a tariff specification that restricts the receipt of gas with nitrogen over a certain level. However, Section 44 of Northern's FERC Gas Tariff states that "The gas shall be commercially free from objectionable odors, solid matter, dust, gums and gum-forming constituents, or any other substance which may interfere with the merchantability of the gas, or cause injury to or interference with proper operation of the lines, meters, regulators, or other appliances through which it flows."

It is Northern's position that any gas which has a high nitrogen content that makes the gas delivered from Northern's system non-merchantable is subject to being curtailed/allocated. Northern has reviewed the gas composition for the receipts in this area which would affect the total level of nitrogen in the gas stream. If it becomes necessary for Northern to curtail receipts to ensure that the gas stream is merchantable to El Paso at the Keystone interconnect, gas receipts into Northern will be curtailed/allocated according to the following order. These points have been listed according the level of nitrogen in the gas stream. The receipt point listed first has the highest level of nitrogen, the second point listed has the second highest level, etc.

1. NNG/Pinnacle Terry POI 60022 2. Gaines County #2 POI 401 3. Gaines County #3-NNG POI 395 4. NNG/Altura Gaines POI 78023 5. GPM Fullerton Plant POI 36511 6. Adobe Plant POI 25450 7. Spraberry Area 8. NNG/Amerada Hess Gaines Co. POI 78028 9. Warren Eunice POI 6751 10. Hobbs Area 11. LLano/NNG Lea POI 200

If El Paso refuses to allow deliveries from Northern into EL Paso Keystone, Northern may require all gas to be received from shippers in this portion of our system to conform to the gas quality specification set forth in Section 44 of Northern's FERC Gas Tariff. Any previously granted waivers by Northern of Section 44 of its FERC Gas Tariff relating to receipts shall no longer be effective until further notice.

Hi Shelley,

Attached is a draft of the Northern IM. I would greatly appreciate it if you could read it and provide any and all editorial comments. I was hoping that you could provide the answers to the questions which Kevin forwarded to you earlier but I also would love someone to take a look at the overall IM and tell me if it is accurate, structured well, and "salesy." Kevin said that you were one of the best people to do so given your knowledge of the pipeline.

Thank you so much for all of your help. If you have any questions, please feel free to call me anytime today or this weekend.

Shelley, I would like your opinion on a statement we are considering putting into a letter to Alliant to address some issues they have. See what you think of this paragraph. I am trying to think of another word other than "retroactively" (that word bothers me). They are trying to get this letter out this week. Thanks for your help. Lynn

-----Original Message-----

From: Sebesta, Chris Sent: Tuesday, January 15, 2002 11:30 AM To: Blair, Lynn Subject: Alliant Retro Schedule Language

In our meeting, it was suggested to delete the phrase where Northern "would only consider a change which includes but is not limited to ..." and rewrote as follows:

Alliant requested Northern be more flexible and, if requested, consider from time to time to make retroactive scheduling changes. Northern's practice is to NOT retroactively schedule quantities. At any time a shipper has requested a review of scheduled quantities, Northern will review the situation on non-discriminatory, case-by-case basis. If a situation arises, Alliant should call Lynn Blair at 713-853-7637.

Let me know if this is okay or if you have comments. Thanks!

Mark

Attached is a summary of the Lonestar imbalance for 2001.

As per our earlier discussion, I met with Dan Fancier to discuss the Lonestar oba proposal. Dan and I would suggest that a ceiling be placed on the cumulative volume amount and that any volume over that ceiling be required to be cashed out at that month's index price. This process would serve to limit TW's financial exposure related to the revaluation of volumetric imbalances.

Hi Shelley,

Attached is a draft of the Northern IM. I would greatly appreciate it if you could read it and provide any and all editorial comments. I was hoping that you could provide the answers to the questions which Kevin forwarded to you earlier but I also would love someone to take a look at the overall IM and tell me if it is accurate, structured well, and "salesy." Kevin said that you were one of the best people to do so given your knowledge of the pipeline.

Thank you so much for all of your help. If you have any questions, please feel free to call me anytime today or this weekend.

TK, I have attached all the completed data responses in the file below to allow you to print a copy for yourself today. CPUCattmt#20part2.xls. is approximately 470 pages so it needs to be directed to a high speed printer. The rest of the responses are approximately 1 - 20 pages. The following are the instructions to unzip the file.

The attached file is a self extracting Winzip file. Please double click on the file icon and follow the instructions to save it to the directory of your choice. After the file is saved, open Explorer to find that directory, select the file and double click on it to execute the unzip program. At this point the program provides a browse function to allow you to select the directory in which to unzip the file. Select the directory and then select unzip. If you have any questions on this process, please contact me at 402-398-7066.

Lindy and Mike, I am sending via overnight United Parcel, paper copies of all the data responses with the exception of IS-28. I think you both currently have copies of it. If this is not true, please let me know as soon as possible.

Mary Kay, as noted above there will be a paper copy of the data responses in Washington, DC and also the attached file. We have a departmental copy of the data responses but I have not made a copy for you. Is this acceptable to you?

From: Enron General Announcements Sent: Thursday, January 10, 2002 9:22 AM To: DL-GA-all_enron_houston_employees Subject: Bus Pass and Parking Information

FROM: Enron Property & Services Corp

Bus passes for January are now available at the Parking and Transportation office on the third floor of the Enron Building, ECN 306. These passes are offered on a monthly basis and are provided at no charge to the Enron employee.

For employees who park in the Allen Center, Met, or Enron Center garage, new parking rates are in effect beginning with the January 31st paycheck. Rates for 2002 have increased by $5 for unreserved and $10 for reserved spaces. This increase is consistent with first of the year rate increase obligations in Enron's parking lease agreements with the garage operators. Enron is continuing to subsidize employee parking for Enron lease garages.

Direct parking costs to employees are as follows: Enron Center Unreserved 2001 Employee Cost - $94 per month 2002 Employee Cost effective 1/31/2002 - $99 per month Enron Center Reserved 4th Floor 2001 Employee Cost - $215 per month 2002 Employee Cost effective 1/31/2002 - $225 per month Enron Center Reserved 3rd & 5th Floors 2001 Employee Cost - $165 per month 2002 Employee Cost effective 1/31/2002 - $175 per month Allen Center Unreserved 2001 Employee Cost - $94 per month 2002 Employee Cost effective 1/31/2002 - $99 per month Allen Center Reserved 3rd Floor 2001 Employee Cost - $215 per month 2002 Employee Cost effective 1/31/2002 - $225 per month Allen Center Reserved 4th Floor 2001 Employee Cost - $165 per month 2002 Employee Cost effective 1/31/2002 - $175 per month

I agree with your interpretation.

I would recommend that we don't eliminate the "Blanket", but rather arrange a sit down meeting with NNG - Dynegy to explain what each "Blanket" consists of and obtain approval for what we plan to spend within each blanket. If they place restrictions on the blanket expenditures, then we get those restrictions spelled out and we live within their limits.

We can identify every vehicle that needs replaced in 2002 and the Large Tools. Computers probably can be justified based on historical turnover, etc.

Please review the following interpretations of the project approval requirements of the NNG-Dynegy TSA (Pages 8 & 9 - Capital Budgets) and advise if this is consistent with the overall intent and management's position. This interpretation represents the views of those on the "cc" list above and must be communicated to the field personnel and others ASAP. Approval Requirement Within Budget Category All Discretionary Projects NNG-Dynegy

Non Discretionary Projects Less than $25,000 ETS as Operator $25,000 or greater NNG-Dynegy

Previously NNG used blanket project approvals for certain purchases based on the approved budget, as listed below, which was setup for expenditure at the beginning of the year. We think this new approval requirement requires the termination of the use of these blankets or at a minimum require NNG-Dynegy expenditure approval for those dollars remaining to be spent.
