Your participation and expertise in high profile visits makes a valuable contribution to the Enron experience. To help you manage your time with these visits and to ensure the experienceENRON process works efficiently, we ask that Jennifer Brockwell and myself be your single point of contact for scheduling your tours. Our thorough screening process helps ensures these guests receive access to the right areas, the right subject matter experts (SME's) and the highest quality of service.

If you are contacted from someone other than Jennifer and myself (or the chairman's office) to conduct a tour, we recommend you let the person know you are happy to help but experienceENRON manages the tour schedule and refer them to Jennifer Brockwell ext. 57358 or Carrie Robert ext. 33522.

Hello,

Below is invite to Forrester Research's complimentary May 2nd energy breakfast. Limited availability. Please share with anyone else in your organization interested in attending.

You can sign-up via the link below. When signing up, hit continue if the screen asks for a "reservation code". My contact information is below if you have any questions.

Online wholesale trade will reach $3.6 trillion in 2005 -- dominated by financial derivatives. Today's search for trading liquidity will restructure the industry into three markets: liquidity hubs, merchant platforms, and solution sites.

Jim Walker, senior analyst at Forrester Research, will discuss this topic in detail at "New Directions For Online Energy Trading," a complimentary Executive Breakfast. The Event will be held at the St. Regis Hotel in Houston on May 2, 2001. This valuable session will focus on these questions:

* What will energy trading look like in four years? * What will drive trading growth in online exchanges? * What role will energy merchants play in the new markets?

Seats are limited.

Agenda:

8:30-9:00 a.m. Breakfast And Registration

9:00-9:45 a.m. New Directions For Online Energy Trading Jim Walker, senior analyst Forrester

For gas flow for the weekend Saturday November 17 through Monday November 19, REGT has the following IT capacity:

CGT 0 CGT back on line at 326 Other Hub Delivery Points including TGT 10 Tetco Bald Knob 20 TETCO pressures have been up and down, limiting IT. Texas Gas Helena 90 MRT Glendale 30 Other Line AC points 30 Williams Jane 20 Carthage Delivery 10 SBS injection space 0 warm weather and high line pack SBS withdrawal space 50 Backhaul to west 40

Good news, Delhi compressor is back on line and seems to be running ok.

Amber Station is flowing 338 Mdth east and Line 2 South is at 108 Mdth for today. Be aware that REGT is not offering any general interruptible transportation discounts from West of Amber to east delivery points. All IT will be priced at max rate, unless of operational benefit to REGT. REGT is still full along Line AD and is approaching full levels at its Oklahoma storage facilities.

Power plants burned around the 150 Mdth/d level yesterday and are nominated at similar levels for today. Arkla burned around 200 Mdth, lower than normal for this weather. There no major changes are forecasted for this week.

Gas Prices East $1.875 West $1.795

REGT Fuel - currently 1.31% plus $0.0014/dth EPC - based on above = $0.02456/dth

For gas flow for Thursday November 8, REGT has the following IT capacity:

CGT 0 Capacity cuts to 250 Mdth/d for Wed Other Hub Delivery Points including TGT 10 Tetco Bald Knob 40 Texas Gas Helena 90 MRT Glendale 20 Other Line AC points 20 Williams Jane 10 Carthage Delivery 10 SBS injection space 0 SBS withdrawal space 50 Backhaul to west 40

The Delhi Compressor unit is now forecasted to come back sometime on Friday. I will let you know of any changes. REGT has one storage field (Koch Bistineau) and MRT has another field done for testing. Storage injection space remains tight today and will be through the end of the week.

Amber Station is flowing 330 Mdth east and Line 2 South is at 102 Mdth for today.

Be aware that REGT is not offering any general interruptible transportation discounts from West of Amber to east delivery points. All IT will be priced at max rate, unless of operational benefit to REGT. REGT is still full along Line AD and is approaching full levels at its Oklahoma storage facilities.

Power plants burned around the 87 Mdth/d level and are nominated at slightly lower levels for today. Arkla has been burning from 250 to 300 Mdth/d and peaking over 500 Mdth.

Gas Prices East $2.60 West $2.535

Remember the lower fuel percentage for November 1. REGT Fuel - currently 1.31% plus $0.0014/dth EPC - based on above = $0.03546/dth

Tom and Sean,

I have confirmed with Valerie Curtis, the ENA settlements coordinator for Duke Field Services, that deal # 1027152 belongs to Duke Field Services. Valerie has been in touch with her counterpart at Duke and they are expecting to be billed for this gas; she can confirm this information or provide further detail from Duke if needed.

Upon your confirmation of this, please change the CP name on this deal.

I am not sure if they have confirmed either deal. However, deal #1034254 was never pathed by us, whereas 1027152 was. Therefore, nothing billed out under 1034254.

Bonnie - I am including you on this note in case you can add anything about the pathing of the two deals mentioned in this note. Niether CMS orgaination shows anything on Trunkline that matches this. We spoke briefly about this last week.

Phillip - I am including you in case you can add any clarity or determine who we did this deal(s) with.

Tom,

In contacting our scheduler and subsequently a CMS scheduler, neither CMS Field Services nor CMS Marketing, Services, and Trading are able to identify the deal. Currently, I am preparing to fax a copy of our confirmation on the deal to CMS Field Services, Again, it is not an executed copy, but I am assuming they may not have sent it back. Furthermore, the CMS Field Services scheduler has told me that they don't even schedule any Trunkline deals.

Considering all of this, I am assuming the worst - that unless we can provide a trader name etc. they will short pay on this deal. So, do you know who represented us with CMS on this deal any one that might know who their trader is or how this deal was booked? We are getting ready to settle for Sep prod so any help asap would be appreciated.

The most recent name and number is a Conoco trader. I have a confirmation on this deal with CMS. However, it is not an executed copy (i.e. sent back or confirmed by CMS). Is there some one who represented us with CMS on this that might know who their trader is or how this deal was booked? I will attempt to contact the scheduler in the mean time but any help would be good.

Our trader, Tom Donohoe, has told me that since you have a force majeure there as of the 12th, we can not take the well to 1 and it will be at "0" till you are flowing gas to us again. REGT is posting today its ability to offer discounted SBS/PALS rates for deals starting in April 2002 for one year terms or longer.

REGT estimates that there could be as much as 2.0 Bcf available for SBS cycling deals on a year-around basis starting in April 2002. The daily deliverability associated with this volume will vary by deal but is roughly based on:

injection 3500 dth per every 100,000 dth capacity withdrawal 4000 dth per every 100,000 dth capacity

SBS/PALS is an interruptible service and REGT cannot guarantee its availability everyday. REGT is offering to enter into rates pertaining to this capacity for a long term period should it become available.

REGT would be interested in entertaining a variety of deal structures or proposals, including the traditional reservation/commodity setup. Rates may be posted as negotiated rate structures.

Written requests for possible discounted rates should be received by REGT by the end of the business day on December 7, 2001. You can email or fax them into me at 713-207-9628 or jfogg@reliantenergy.com.

Please contact me at 713-207-5183 concerning additional questions or inquiries.

Good day all:

I am working to coordinate the weekend. If you could tell me the time that we can start taking apart PC's and move. You will need to speak with your managers and find the times that this will be possible. The earlier the better, but we need to know a time. You will need to notify everyone of when it will start so they can leave, if a few have to stay we can work around them, but if anyone needs to be here extremely late we will need to know.

Currently we have people starting from 2:30 to 6PM.

Let me know and thank you for all of the help.

Deals 1025953 Deal 778374

Sender	kay.khan@enron.com
Recipients	['tom.donohoe@enron.com', 'dan.masters@enron.com']
File	donohoe-t/inbox/440.

Hi Tom, 1. Deal 1025953, we were billed for the total deal volume 1,350, 000MMBtu but we only show receiving 1,347,167MMBtu.(diff of 2833 MMBtu). 2. Deal 778374, we are being billed on the deal volume and not the actual volumes. I could not find the contract in Sitara to verify if we are to be billed on deal volumes and not actuals. How are we to adjust the variances from the deal volumes to the actuals.

Could you please shed some light on these issues or at least guide me to someone who can.

Thanks,

Hi Diane, I have some billing discrepancies

September.

1. Invoice EGK32, Deal 778374, the volume should be 1,103,881MMBtu. I have attached the printscreens from Sitara showing the actual volumes. The sheet is named invegk32.

2. Invoice EGK33, Deal 1025953, Sept 7 - Sept 30, the volume should be 1,077,952MMBtu. I have attached the printscreens from Sitara showing the actual volumes. The sheets are named invegk33a thru d.

July.

1. Invoice EGK25, Deal 778374, the price was NX1+0.01 USD/MMBtu. NX1 for July was 3.182 so the actual price should have been 3.192. You have billed us 3.748.

Please let me know if these changes can be made and if you can send me corrected invoices. << File: LNG_Diff_SeptInv01.xls >>

Subject: REGT Capacity Report November 14

For gas flow for Thursday November 15, REGT has the following IT capacity:

CGT 0 Capacity cuts to 250 Mdth/d for Thursday Other Hub Delivery Points including TGT 10 Tetco Bald Knob 20 TETCO pressures have been up and down, limiting IT. Texas Gas Helena 90 MRT Glendale 20 Other Line AC points 20 Williams Jane 20 Carthage Delivery 10 SBS injection space 0 warm weather and high line pack SBS withdrawal space 50 Backhaul to west 40

There has been no update in the estimated date of return for the Delhi compressor. The suction bottles are due back from the factory tomorrow and the Perryville team is planning on having them installed by late Friday, barring any last minute glitches. Volumes are still being held at 250,000 dth at CGT at this time. I will let you know of any updates as soon as I get them. Also, REGT has the #1 unit at Malvern down for repair. Storage injection space remains tight due to warmer weather and high line pack left after the tests this past weekend.

Amber Station is flowing 340 Mdth east and Line 2 South is at 112 Mdth for today. Be aware that REGT is not offering any general interruptible transportation discounts from West of Amber to east delivery points. All IT will be priced at max rate, unless of operational benefit to REGT. REGT is still full along Line AD and is approaching full levels at its Oklahoma storage facilities.

Power plants burned around the 149 Mdth/d level yesterday and are nominated at similar levels for today. Arkla bumped up to about 321 mdth on Monday but no major changes are forecasted for this week.

Gas Prices East $2.23 West $2.14

REGT Fuel - currently 1.31% plus $0.0014/dth EPC - based on above = $0.0306/dth

I am in the office today. You can call me at 713-207-5183 or AOL IM me at JAFOGG for any rate quotes or questions. However, I will only be around till 8:45 or so this morning. If you are looking for IT capacity after that time, please call Marie Downing at 713-207-5194.

Thanks

John A Fogg To: 10/31/01 cc: 08:06 AM Subject: REGT Capacity Report Wednesday October 31

For gas flow for Thursday, November 1, REGT has the following IT capacity: Please note my paragraph at the bottom today.

CGT 0 Capacity cuts to 250 Mdth/d for Thursday, same as before Other Hub Delivery Points including TGT 10 Tetco Bald Knob 30 Texas Gas Helena 75 MRT Glendale 20 Other Line AC points 20 Williams Jane 10 Carthage Delivery 10 SBS injection space 10 warmer weather expected on system, limits injections SBS withdrawal space 50 Backhaul to west 40

The Delhi Compressor unit in NE Louisiana in the Perryville Hub complex cracked a discharge bottle last Friday. This limits our ability to compress into CGT and REGT will be limited on deliveries into CGT. For Wednesday, CGT deliveries will be cut to the 250 Mdth/d level. The cuts will be pro-rata based on nominations. The bottle will take at least 1 to 2 weeks to repair. It looks like it will be into next week before the compressor is fully operational.

Amber Station is flowing 345 Mdth east and Line 2 South is at 109 Mdth for today.

Be aware that REGT is not offering any general interruptible transportation discounts from West of Amber to east delivery points. All IT will be priced at max rate, unless of operational benefit to REGT. REGT is still full along Line AD and is approaching full levels at its Oklahoma storage facilities.

Power plants burned around the 100 Mdth/d level and are nominated at slightly higher levels for today. Arkla pulled over 380 Mdth/d and peaked at 650 Mdth.

Gas Prices East $2.995 West $2.925

Remember the lower fuel percentage for November 1. REGT Fuel - currently 1.31% plus $0.0014/dth EPC - based on above = $0.0406/dth, almost a penny drop in fuel costs.

I am in the office today. You can call me at 713-207-5183 or AOL IM me at JAFOGG for any rate quotes or questions. I will be out of the office for the next two days at the SGA Gas Transportation Roundtable in San Antonio, Texas. There will not be a morning capacity email for the next two days. If you need information or a rate quote, you can call Marie Downing at 713-207-5194. I will be somewhat available to Marie and will be checking in with her from time to time.

Thanks

PG&E Reports Defective Steam Tubes

? ? PG&E has reported to the NRC that 65 steam generator tubes in its Diablo Canyon 1 nuclear unit in California were defective but have been plugged and pose no safety threat. The tubes, made from a special metal alloy, showed cracks from corrosion and stress and were no longer in service. The tubes are part of the No. 2 steam generator in Diablo Canyon 1. There are four steam generators in each unit of the two-unit Diablo plant, and each generator has 3,300 tubes. The tubes carry reactor coolant from the reactor to the steam generators. If tubes are cracked, a small amount of radioactive materials could leak into the unit's steam cycle. The NRC limits the number of defective tubes to 15% of the total in the steam generator, but a nuclear unit will begin to lose power if the total reaches 10%. Diablo 1 is in cold shutdown, but is expected to link back up to the transmission grid in about a week, when it will be at about 15% capacity.

BP Buys Alliance Pipeline Capacity

? ? BP Amoco has been acquiring transportation capacity on the Alliance pipeline as a prelude to shipping Arctic natural gas through Canada to the US market. BP's Canadian unit was not one of the original natural gas producers to back Alliance, the 1,900-mile? pipeline set to transport up to 1.325 Bcf per day to Chicago from northeastern British Columbia in two weeks. But, over the past few months, it has assumed the transportation responsibilities of eight shippers on the pipeline whose volumes total about 250 MMcf per day, and it plans to increase that amount. Construction of one or more pipelines connecting those Arctic pools across Canada's far north to either Alliance or TransCanada PipeLines Alberta system is expected to take at least five years. BP says that gaining capacity on Alliance will eventually play into its Arctic natural gas strategy, but in the short term it is broadening its asset management service.
