Tricia,

I have already spoken to the RIV and Canada Customs. My car was manufactured in Japan and thus would be subject to an import duty of 6.1%, the GST and excise and import costs.

Purchase price = 35000 USD = 54000 CND Duty on this amount = 3300 GST on this amount = 3800 Excise tax = 180 Permits = 400

Plus costs to convert the speedometer and odometer to the metric system and label all safety systems with french language instructions (from RIV) = approx. 500

That brings us to $8200 CND plus the cost to actually transport it from Houston to Calgary (at least $2000). Total approximately $10000 CND.

Hardly seems like the best option.

Also, I called Williams moving to find out what the cost was to move me down here last year. And the invoice just for the move of my household goods from Calgary to Houston was $4700 USD. Just off the top of my head my out of pocket costs will be:

Movers = $7300 CND (4700 USD) Flight = $1500 CND Hotel = $1500 CND October Rent = $1500 (I have a 1 year lease in Houston that expires at the end of October)

The total of the above is $11 800.

Hi Chris. I have some information for you about how to bring your car into Canada. You'll have to do a little leg work, but you will get the answers you're looking for.

First thing... call the Registrar of Imported Vehicles (RIV) here in Canada (1-888-848-8240 toll free U.S. & Canada). You'll need the make, model, year, and original purchase price of your car. This agency will tell you if your car is eligible for import and what if any modifications are required. Costs associated with this can be reimbursed under your relocation package.

Generally you do not have to pay duty on the car if it originates from the U.S. You'll have to pay 7% GST on the purchase value (less depreciation if you've had the car more than 30 days) converted into CAD$ using the f/x rate on the date of import. There are some excise taxes for having an air conditioner ($100) or for a vehicle weighing more than 4,425 pounds. Costs associated with this can be reimbursed under your relocation package.

Once you have an estimate of the costs for bringing your car here please let us know in case your relocation budget needs to be reviewed.

<< File: Importing a Vehicle.pdf >> This document explains the process in more detail and has an example of the cost calculation.

Chris buddy! How's it going? I was chatting with Dan this morning and I was able to track down your mailing address, so I can send you a wedding invitation. You're still M.C. right? Just kidding, but it'll be good to see you. I hear everything's going good down there, speaking for the rest of your buddies up north though, I'll be looking forward to when that career path steers you back a little closer to home. The wedding is on August 18th(saturday), Mike & Nate are planning some golf, camping and a little drinking as well on the August long weekend too if you were planning on being back then as well, although that sounds like a lot of travel. Anyways, I suppose I'll see you at Sue and Dionne's wedding? Should be a good time. Take it easy, Chris.

AA+ credit will be nice. They have a good risk tolerance and are more or less going to give us limits and let us do our own thing. Hopefully a little more stable than Enron. Subject: Enron Announcement

Car Rental Options for Enron Travelers

Rental car contracts for 2001 have been awarded to:

National Car Rental (Primary) and Alamo Rent-A-Car (Secondary).

The intent of these agreements is to consolidate and leverage Enron's total car rental spend to achieve the most favorable rates and non-pricing provisions (i.e. insurance).

National Car Rental, due to its service levels, availability and total value proposition, has been awarded Primary status and is recommended as the first choice for Enron travelers' needs.

Alamo Rent-A-Car, a sister company to National, has been awarded a contract reflecting a Secondary status, due to its service levels, availability and low cost solutions. Alamo is recommended as an alternative to National, where available.

When you rent a vehicle in the United States, (including Puerto Rico) or Canada, the following insurance provisions are included, regardless of rate selected: 1. L/DW (Loss/Damage Waiver) - This is what is called Comprehensive or Collision on your personal auto. It covers the rental vehicle and pays for any damage to it. 2. Liability - This covers people and property outside the rental vehicle. For both National and Alamo, the coverage is $100,000 per person, $300,000 per occurrence and $50,000 for property damage.  IMPORTANT  These coverages apply regardless of rate selected, as long as the following contract ID is communicated at the time of reservation and rental is recorded on the transaction rental agreement. (National - 5000838 Alamo - #143974)

To enjoy the highest levels of service while renting a vehicle from Enron's preferred suppliers, it is recommended that each traveler enroll in National's and Alamo's preferred traveler programs. National's Emerald Club membership and Alamo's Quicksilver program are designed to speed the transaction time by providing services such as counter bypass and rapid return. The enrollment fees for these programs have been waived for Enron travelers. Enrollment packets will be mailed to the addresses of Enron American Express T&E Cardholders. You may also find an enrollment form on the Enron Travel Program intranet @ gss.enron.com <<http://gss.enron.com/>>.

Traci,

I am really looking forward to my cooking class. My first one is this Saturday morning. I'm a little scared I am going to be the class screw up. Oh well, I won't know until I try. I think I am going to Yoga on Wednesday but dinner on Friday would be great. Give me a shout or drop me an e-mail and let me know what time you want to eat and I'll make some reservations. Good Morning!

I am having a crazy week! At least it is keeping me out of trouble! I really enjoyed seeing you again as well. It is good to see that you are doing so well!

I have two appointments this week in Calgary. Wednesday I have two and Friday afternoon another. If you want to get together either Wednesday for Coffee (after 7 sometime) or Friday for a later dinner (after 6 sometime) let me know.

Good luck with your cooking classes! Hopefully all appendages remain attached.

Talk with you soon!

Good Afternoon Everyone:

We have recently come upon an indoor parking opportunity in the Ernst & Young Tower as approximately 30 indoor stalls have become available.

Right now you are either parking in the Westin Hotel lot (paying $342.40/month) or in the Eau Claire Market lot (paying $300.00/month). If you choose to take a stall in the Ernst & Young Tower, you will pay $353.10/month for an unreserved stall or $401.25/month for a reserved stall.

Before making a decision as to whether you would like to switch over to one of these indoor stalls, please take a moment to consider the pros and cons:

Pro: Con:

Indoor Parking Outdoor Parking Price per month is Higher Month-to-Month Basis (Either Side Can Cancel with One-Month's Notice)* Your Taxable Benefit Goes Up

Please let me know prior to Wednesday, September 19, 2001 whether you would like one of these stalls.

Thank you,

Megan

Hi Chris!

I followed up with the same IRS representative I spoke with in November regarding your missing cheque. I wish I had better news for the holiday season.

Three traces were placed on your missing refund cheque and three times the trace has been rejected. The IRS doesn't know why. They are placing a formal inquiry into the matter. The representative I spoke with has admitted that somebody on the IRS' end isn't doing what they are supposed to be doing and he promised me they'd get down to the matter. I can only tell you that I will follow up again in January of the new year.

In the meantime, have a very Merry Holiday Season and a Wonderful New Year!

Best regards,

Ian,

When I said spread I didn't mean graph the basis as opposed to the fixed price (these graphs are essentially identical to the first ones you did) I want a graph of the relationship (spread) between the 2 points. i.e. if Nov-Mar Sumas was marked at 0.20 and Nov-Mar Aeco was marked at (0.45) the Nov-Mar Sumas Aeco spread would be 0.65. Sorry if I wasn't clear. Call me with any ?s.

Chris,

Here is the update using the spreads instead of the fixed price. The worksheet is titled "Sumas Basis Graphs".

Getting closer. I want a graph of the spread not of the 2 fixed prices.

Here is the updated information you wanted. The charts can be found in the "Sumas Graphs" worksheet.

Ian,

Thanx looks good. What I was really looking for was the relationship between Sumas and each of those points for the N-M and A-O strips.

Can you put these graphs together for me.

Nov-Mar Sumas vs. Aeco Sumas vs. Rockies Sumas vs. San Juan Sumas vs. Malin Sumas vs. Socal

Apr-Oct Sumas vs. Aeco Sumas vs. Rockies Sumas vs. San Juan Sumas vs. Malin Sumas vs. Socal

Kiron,

I am not that familiar with the corporate finance side of the business but I will ask around as to who would be a good person for you to contact. You might want to start with Kyle Kitagawa who is a VP in our Calgary corporate finance group. You can reach him at kyle.kitagawa@enron.com or 403-974-6700. Let me know if I can be any further help.

Regards,

Chris Dorland

Hi Chris,

I have just completed an MBA at IVEY and am looking to you for help and advice.

I am interested to work at Enron in the Corporate Finance Area.

This is specifically in the Capital Raising Function (Mergers & Acquisitions, IPOs etc).

As per my understanding this could also be part of a Treasury area.

I am unsure of this. I am unable to ascertain this information from the website.

My guess is that this might be based in the US at the Head Office.

At this point I am looking for some direction (someone who you could refer me to in the US) who could provide me this information or deal with this matter directly (non-HR).

Could you give me some feedback in this regard.

By way of background, I have just completed an MBA at the Richard Ivey School of business in London Ontario - Canada.

Apart from this I bring to the table a good amount of experience in the field of finance.

As a Chartered Accountant, I have over 7 years international experience in the field of finance as an Analyst - Financial Valuation, an Analyst - Equity Research and as an Equities Dealer and finally in the Risk Management area.

Last summer I worked at the Royal Bank Dominion Securities Toronto as an Equities Research Associate - Gold Mining.

I hope to hear from you in the near future.

Cheers

Kiron Vaghela C.A. M.B.A. (416) 538 4219
