(01-162) Reminder and Clarification on NYMEX Division Post-Close

Notice # 01-162 May 11, 2001

TO: All NYMEX Division Members and Member Firms

FROM: Neal L. Wolkoff, Executive Vice President

RE: Reminder and Clarification on NYMEX Division Post-Close Trading Sessions

DATE: May 11, 2001

Reminder Changes will be going into effect today, Friday, May 11, 2001 for the End of Week post-close trading sessions and also, beginning on Monday, May 14, 2001, for the Monday-Thursday post-close trading sessions. The trading range for all of these sessions will be expanded by adding the following ticks above (below) the daily high (low) for the applicable contract month (provided that this expanded trading range does not violate the maximum permissible price fluctuation limits then in effect): Crude Oil 20 ticks Heating Oil 50 ticks Unleaded Gas 50 ticks Natural Gas 50 ticks

Clarification Previously, the trading range for the Monday-Thursday sessions was the closing range for the applicable contract month. Exchange staff interpreted the rule to provide that if a contract month did not trade during the close, there would be no closing range and thus it would not be permissible to trade that contract month during the post-close. Now, as noted above, the post-close session trading range on any day of the week will be an expanded version of the daily range. Therefore, the Exchange is issuing the following clarifications as to the contract months that can be traded during a post-close session (on any day of the week):

1. Only the first twelve listed contract months are eligible for trading in the post-close.
2. If a particular contract month does not trade during the RTH session, it may not be traded during the post-close.
3. It is not necessary for a contract month to trade during the close in order to be traded in the post-close as long as it has traded during the RTH session.

If you have any questions concerning these changes, please contact George Henderson, Vice President, NYMEX Floor Department, at (212) 299-2071; Rob Stasi, Manager of Trading Floor Systems, NYMEX Floor Department, at (212) 299-2067, or Brian Regan, Senior Associate General Counsel, at (212) 299-2207.

Attached please find blacklined versions of the 5 documents that have changed, based on the 12/15 comments that Melanie Wilson sent as well as the subsequent conversation between Melanie, August Shouse and myself. In addition, the Guaranty has been further revised to reflect the June 2000 Guaranty as opposed to the June 1999 Guaranty. Milbank has raised the question as to whether the surety bonds are assignable, and we understand from Enron that they are not assignable. This information has already been relayed by Joe Deffner to Jeffrey Dellapina.

Milbank has also sent us a closing list. What we have sent Milbank includes: 1.2- Margin Agreement 1.3- Margin Price Confirmation Letter 1.4- Enron Guaranty 1.7- Consent and Agreement (Enron Corp) 1.8- Consent and Agreement (ENAC) 2.1- Forward Sale Agreement 2.2- Confirmation Letter of Natural Gas Inventory Forward Sale

Additionally, we have sent Milbank a Letter Agreement regarding duplicate delivery of information, which does not appear on the closing list. We are not planning on drafting 1.1- Assignment Agreement, as is currently reflected on the list. We assume that Milbank is going to draft this document. We are also not doing 1.5- Surety Bond; the surety companies will be doing those. In addition, 3.1 and 4.1- Good Standing Certificates, 3.2 and 4.2- Secretary's Certificates have traditionally been handled by Enron Corp. Lastly, we are not planning on getting 5.1- Good Standing certificates for Mahonia.

We would also propose that Milbank reorganize the closing checklist so that the gas sale transaction documents between Enron and Mahonia are in one group. For example, 1.2, 1.3, 1.4, 1.5, 1.7, 1.8, 2.1, 2.2 plus the Letter Agreement regarding duplicate delivery of information should be in one group regarding the forward sale contract, and all other documents should be in one or more other groups.

Please feel free to contact August Shouse or me with any questions or comments.

Contract Additional Ticks

Crude Oil 20 ticks Natural Gas 50 ticks Unleaded Gasoline 50 ticks Heating Oil 50 ticks *

(C) During the End of Week Session, Floor Members, Floor Brokers and their customers may participate in the same manner as trading occurring during the regular RTH session, except that any order submitted during the RTH session, including but not limited to resting orders such as stop orders, limit orders and good until cancelled (GTC) orders, will be deemed to have expired as of the end of RTH for purposes of this End of Week Session. Accordingly, in the event that a market participant with such an expired order seeks to participate in the End of Week Session, a new order must be submitted.

(D) Prices for trades executed during the End of Week Session shall be reported on public ticker services;

Everything is going okay. Dynegy has bought us out. I think that if I was still in structuring then I might be worried, but I am trading natural gas options and the desk I work for has been very profitable. I think that the natural gas and power trading floors are the main reason they bought us. I would think they would like to keep things as they are on these desks, but you never know. It will take 6-9 months before anything happens.

How are you doing? I haven't heard from you in a while. I would love to get together sometime. My phone number is (713) 853-6247. Call me sometime.

I guess you are working for Jeff Young now? He used to be my boss. How is the Europe group? Are they still the same? I am not for sure how your company is set up now.

How is married life? Is you wife in the US now? Are you still in DC?

Talk to you soon.

It is such a beautiful piece. Do you think that the sofa's foam will last? How is the fabric that IDEE uses? Are you happy with the design? Angie and I were looking into the Omni also. PLOB AT CAPP

Sender	karim@karimrashid.com

File	griffith-j/all_documents/421.

I have an opening at Capp St. Gallery at CCAC April 19 6 p.m.-9pm called PLOB

PLOB is an enclosed environment created out of hundreds of identical plastic translucent modules. Each module has a light and single different sound that are activated from movement.

Plastic Blob is a plob - A plob is the state between liquid plastic and solid material object. A Plob is a noun, but is also a verb. I plob in a state of endlessness. Capp Gallery is turned into a non-stop amorphous plastic scape that denotes a world with no boundaries - The space extends itself via plastic organic modules of repetition d a continuum of surface based on a conventional Cartesian grid. Plob is a metaphor for a continuous world, a neutral landscape, and an undulating surface that is reconfigurable and sizable ad infinitum.

The lightweight plastic moldings are rearrangeable abstractions that are a growth from the floor, walls, and ceiling - an extension of the natural landscape to the artificial landscape. All the notions of objects as singular are dispelled and are replaced by an environment rising out of the ground. The continuous white field is surrounded by field of fluorescence to allude to the world of technology, to digital space and arbiters, as a recluse from infotrophy.

Inevitably our entire physical landscape will merge and connect. Furniture and space merge, Object and environment, City and town, water and ground, highway to highway, being to being.

Please come.

Sincerely, Karim Rashid

While markets digest the impact of the ECB's surprising, but apparently credibility damaging interest rate cut on both European asset markets and the euro, the Fed will rub salt into the wounds this week with another aggressive ease in policy. Although this may be the last ease this year, recent market moves suggest that the Fed has done enough to support hopes of a recovery in H2. The ECB in contrast, by last week's price action, still has some way to go, leaving EUR/USD vulnerable to new lows in the very short term.

This agreement should be split and attach individually to each of the two swaps. The monetization should therefore not be dependent on both of them having occurred but only of the one relevant to that particular credit letter.

John,

Please find details for the distributor for the Coast chair manufactured by MAGIS:

Leif Petersen Inc. 15 Woodland Avenue San Rafael CA 94901

Personally I like the Orgone chair very much but I don't know how to compare it with his other pieces...It is to my mind quite unique and a beautiful piece to look at standing alone in a space.

Doug,

As we discussed, I am trying to get a feel for pricing if an insurance company or companies were to hedge some potential price exposures. Please assume that the credit quality of your counterparty is A rated or better. Attached are some hypothetical volumes to hedge. The actual volumes hedged may be less or more. I would suggest we look at a cap and a swap (pay fixed, receive floating). It would be appreciated if you would please provide some indicative quotes.

If you need more please let me know.

Thanks.

Best regards,

Bob

With respect to the ECT Merchant Investments Corp. and ENA contract and the St. Mary's Production, LLC and ENA contract (Gary Bryan's "Preston" deal), Melissa Graves and I will assume responsibility for having our records and deals properly updated. We would also be happy to perform the same task for the Entrada/Crescendo contracts if you wish.

In any event, we need copies of the conveyancing documents for at least the "Preston" deal and, if you wish us to update the Entrada/Crescendo deal also, the conveyancing documents for that deal too.

When the existing VPP's get syndicated into Brazos later this week, then they will be between Brazos [not Entrada] and Crescendo, and Brazos [not ECT Merchant...] and St. Mary's, who is the person responsible for making sure that the ENA contracts group makes the name change [assignment], and that everything in ENA's internal system - Sitara gets changed accordingly? And also to make sure that these deals do not get duplicated?

RV Comments - Part 2

Sender	soblancer@carrfut.com
Recipients	['soblancer@carrfut.com']
File	griffith-j/discussion_threads/318.

RV Comment regarding longer portion of curve:

Recap: 1. DNH1 / DNM1 continues to trade somewhat expensive, DNM1 basis is fair given FF futures ("new & improved" levels) 2. FNMA benchmarks and FHLMC reference notes from 1/09 thru 9/10 are trading at attractive levels relative to Libor - likely will not improve much before quarter end 3. USM1 and TYM1 basis: a. USM1 basis closed cheap across the board (especially given FF futures) b. TYM1 basis continues to trade rich 4. GSE issues longer than 15 years continue to suffer relative to Libor (trading Libor plus 2 to 4) 5. FHLMC issued $2bn sub-debt 10yrs approx 22 over 10year FHLMC (approx L+14)

Comments: 1. DNM1 vs E$ strips (swaps) represent very attractive risk/reward profile - prefer E$ strips instead of swaps because of our opinion on volatility and ability to discretely manage duration variability of CTD of DNM1 - we have seen interest in this trade & variants of this trade 2. We view the UST 5.5 5/09 as expensive vs the TYM1, although FF currently offer no protection against rampant Fed eases 3. We view the USM1 basis as cheap - prefer owning "non-CTD" issues (e.g. Aug17s and Feb23s) rather than '20 & '21 issues - FF futures should provide reasonable repo hedges for these positions 4. FNMA announcement (tomorrow) of new 10yrs - look for announcement on the smaller side ... comparable issues trading L-9 or so, relatively expensive funding for FNMA 5. GSE issues > 15 years continue to lag everything - unless and until the curve helps out - and - liquidation of positions acquired considerably above the market

LA LA AL

File	griffith-j/all_documents/305.

Well, yep, I am still alive, I still exist here in LA. This hasn't been easy, it's not easy, but it hasn't killed me, just given me a recurring chest cold. It seems that it's only really hard to breathe on the days when I have something pretty big and pressing to do, like the day before actually getting the truck, or today when I had to go to Aquent to get tested on my computer skills, and then wanted to go apply for jobs at 12 different photo-related businesses (which I didn't do). But on the days that I allow myself to have fun, it is great.

Last week on Monday I went to Point Dume beach w/ Mark Allen and his friend Elyse, and we had a great time. Of course the water and the day were way too cold to go swimming, but we hiked up a cliff overhanging the water, where surfers were trying to catch the 9-15 foot waves. I got pictures of them, and photo'd Mark and Elyse walking through the crazy daisies that grow bushlike out of the top of 2.5' sticks in the sand. Then on Sat., I went hiking by myself in Griffith Park, which is literally up the street from our house. Griffith Park is a big park in the Hollywood Hills, maybe (I'm not sure) where the Hollywood sign is. Sort of a California version of Central Park, with mountains and a whole lot more wild. (From our apartment, we can see the "lly" and "d" of the Hollywood sign, mostly obscured by palm trees.) So I was walking along this dirt fire road, amazed at the solitude and immensity of the nature, my head being buzzed by an annoyed bee or something, when I turned a corner and saw a huge chunk of LA in front of me. I'm still too new here to be able to know exactly what I was looking at, but way in the distance I could see jets taking off from LAX, I think. Closer was Hollywood, where I live. There were some tall buildings that I think were the Melrose area, and way in the distance, I could see these buildings that were backlit from the light reflecting off the ocean. The Ocean. The Pacific. I could see the PACIFIC from the MOUNTAINS by my house. It is amazing. Okay, maybe they're technically hills, since I could walk up them following the trails, but they are definitely mountains to me. Besides, you can practically walk up Everest, w/ oxygen. We've gone to art openings, had fun there, gone to parties, had fun there, too. Can't find really good, really cheap beer here like Pearl, yet, but I'll keep trying. The Food for Less has a twenty-pack of Budweiser for $9.98, just 50¢ a beer. Went to two music shows this last week, at two different places, and was able to bring my camera in, no problem. I still haven't processed any film here yet, still way too broke to do it. I've got about 18 or 19 rolls shot so far, some of it from before I left Houston. I'll probably process the film even though I "can't afford it", cuz I'm thinking I might be able to use some of the photos in my portfolio, which I can use to make me some big money. Gotta spend money to make it, gotta believe it's worth it, cuz it is. It's easy to believe in my head, but's harder to get off the couch. I'm still trying to get the guts to go through all my photos and put together my portfolio. I was out today, had just filled out a simple application at a camera store (my first), when I realized I was carrying around my graphics portfolio, and none of my photos. So I bought some ice cream and came home. I miss you guys. Tell me how you are. Write to me, email me, call me. Instant message me, even. Jody is not enough for me, I need other friends. Remember that I'm two hours behind you, and I stay up really late, so you can call me at 4am there and I'm still not even home from the bar yet. I expect every single one of you to move out here one day. Don't forget about me when I make it big.

Jeremy,

John and I really need to meet Tuesday for about 30min-1hr with you Dave and Sanjeev, so that we can better understand how the options are being calc'd in the system. We thought we had a pretty good idea after talking on Friday, but tonight we see that we don't. John is about one half million dollars off every night in his prediction of the P/L for Mike's book, and we're afraid our position might not be correct as well.

Please give me a call.

Thanks,

Errol, X5-8274

Subject: Vega Issue - Vol. Smile

John:

The reason for the large Vega numbers on the TopPage report, while there were no corresponding changes in the Volatility curves, is due to the change in the mid. price for the current day versus the prior day. The corresponding volatility skews that are added to the vols. for the 2 days is causing the large vega numbers.

For example, for deal number QV5087.2 (exp. date 01-Jan-2002):

Current Day Prior Day Mid. Price 5.885 5.772 Strike Price 3.5 3.5 Mid - Strike 2.385 2.272 Vol. 0.555 0.555 Vol. Skew 0.03816 0.03635 Actual Vol. 0.59316 0.59135

Option value for prior day using current day's vol. = 7,616,935 Option value for prior day using prior day's vol. = 7,547,238 Vega = 69,697

Thank you, Jeremy x3-0573

Not much going on over here. Just hanging out waiting on the sale of the trade group. I have interviewed with a couple of people. I have one offer, not taking it yet though. I think I would be giving up too much over here at Enron at this time. Anyway, things are okay.

No I do not know Cassandra Shultz. Is she from Enron?

Happy New Year and take care. Tell Debby hi. Talk to you soon.
