Keith,

I noticed that a bunch of files have been placed in the folder O:_Dropbox/West New Gen. They appear to have been created by you. This is the folder that I designated as a dropbox and the entire westpower trading organization uses that folder to look up this report. If you would like me to move my folder, I will, but it would involve a great number of people and I hope it would be much simpler if I could move your files to a different folder. Thanks,

Jeff,

Lets make dinner plans to discuss this.....Just kidding. While Scott was here, we arranged for him to be included in the Oct 29th Trading Track interviews. This seems to be the best thing for him given that he really wants to become a trader. Once in the program, he'll have 4 rotations (6 months each), some of these would likely be on the west desk.

Mike and I have talked and both agree that it makes good sense for Scott to join west gas given his experience in Portland. However, the only hitch is that Mike cannot unilaterally decide to bring Scott to the desk. He will need to negotiate this with the other desk heads and the program director. This should not be an issue.

[NEWSRELEASES-LIST] SMUD Cosumnes Power Plant Project Begins Energy

For immediate release: November 14, 2001 Media Contact: Chris Davis - 916-654-4989

SMUD Cosumnes Power Plant Project Begins Energy Commission Review

Sacramento - The Sacramento Municipal Utility District's Cosumnes Power Plant Project took its first step in the California Energy Commission's review process today. Commissioners voted four to zero to accept the SMUD application as data adequate. The finding means that Energy Commission staff has enough information to begin the 12-month licensing review of the project.

If approved and built on the proposed site near the decommissioned Rancho Seco nuclear power plant, 25 miles south of Sacramento, the Cosumnes Power Plant Project will produce 1,000 megawatts. The combined-cycle, natural gas-fired generation facility would be constructed in two phases. Each phase would generate 500 megawatts and consist of two combustion turbines, one condensing steam turbine and two heat-recovery steam generators. SMUD expects the total cost of the plant to be $595 million.

SMUD hopes to begin construction on the plant by the end of 2002, with the first phase beginning operation in spring 2005. The second phase is projected to be ready for commercial operation by the first quarter of 2008.

After finding the proposal data adequate, the Energy Commission named Commissioner Robert Pernell to be Presiding Member of the Cosumnes Power Plant Project Siting Committee. Commissioner Arthur H. Rosenfeld, Ph.D. will serve as Associate Member. During the certification process, the Committee is responsible for overseeing all hearings and related proceedings on the proposed power plant.

Some of the issues to be examined over the course of the review include environmental impacts, air quality, water, biological resources, public health and safety, the transmission system and engineering design. As part of the review process, the Commission and staff encourage comments from local, state and federal agencies, as well as the general public. Once the review process is complete, the Committee will draft a formal recommendation for the other Commissioners to consider before taking final action at a full hearing of the Energy Commission.

The Energy Commission's website provides information on the proposed project at:

www.energy.ca.gov/sitingcases/smud/

Public participation is a very important part of the Energy Commission approval process. To find out how to get involved, call the Energy Commission's Public Adviser, Roberta Mendonca, at (916) 654-4489, toll free at (800) 822-6228, or by e-mail at [pao@energy.state.ca.us].

Here is a message I received from Buddy this morning. I copied it and deleted all the addresses at top, it was so long. It was sent to him by his daughter-in-law who works for a law firm in Houston.

[Sinclair, Nancy] I received this email - thought it was worth passing on just in case.

FYI - I was very skeptical of this e-mail so I called the telephone number and it really was Laura Katsis at work. She said that she did write and send the e-mail in reaction to what her girlfriend told her. This could still be a hoax, but I am taking it a little more seriously knowing that Laura is a real person who admits writing the e-mail and who stands behind what she wrote.

Hi All -

I think you all know that I don't send out hoaxes and don't do the reactionary thing and send out anything that crosses my path. This one, however, is a friend of a friend and I've given it enough credibility in my mind that I'm writing it up and sending it out to all of you. My friend's friend was dating a guy from Afghanistan up until a month ago. She had a date with him around 9/6 and was stood up. She was understandably upset and went to his home to find it completely emptied. On 9/10, she received a letter from her boyfriend explaining that he wished he could tell her why he had left and that he was sorry it had to be like that. The part worth mentioning is that he BEGGED her not to get on any commercial airlines on 9/11 and to not to go any malls on Halloween. As soon as everything happened on the 11th, she called the FBI and has since turned over the letter.

This is not an email that I've received and decided to pass on. This came from a phone conversation with a long-time friend of mine last night. I may be wrong, and I hope I am. However, with one of his warnings being correct and devastating, I'm not willing to take the chance on the second and wanted to make sure that people I cared about had the same information that I did.

[NEWSRELEASES-LIST] Energy Commission Starts Review of Riverside,

Sender	fnamjou@energy.state.ca.us

NEWS RELEASE FROM THE CALIFORNIA ENERGY COMMISSION

For immediate release: December 19, 2001 Contact: Chris Davis - 916-654-4989

Energy Commission Starts Review of Riverside, Kings County Power Projects Sacramento - The California Energy Commission today voted to start review of two new power projects proposed for Kings and Riverside Counties.

In two separate votes, the five-member Commission found power plant license applications complete and ready for the Energy Commission staff's comprehensive 12-month review process. The first application is from Duke Energy Avenal, LLC, for a 600-megawatt power plant in the City of Avenal, Kings County. The second is for Calpine's Inland Empire Energy Center, LLC's 670-megawatt project near Perris, in Riverside County.

Avenal Energy Project

The site for Duke's Avenal Energy Project is in the agricultural region of the southwest San Joaquin Valley. The project would be built on 25 acres just south of the Fresno County line, about two miles east of Interstate 5. The site is within the City of Avenal in an area zoned for industrial use. The land is currently irrigated agricultural, as is the surrounding property.

The proposed Avenal power plant project would be a combined-cycle generating plant consisting of two natural gas-fired turbines with heat-recovery steam generators and a General Electric steam turbine. The plant would use a wet cooling tower process, consuming approximately 2,250 acre-feet of water annually. The Kern County Water Agency would provide inland surface cooling water to the plant via the San Luis Canal. Local water would be used as a backup for the system. Electricity from the plant would be connected to the transmission grid through a 7,000-foot transmission line. Natural gas will be supplied to the project by a 7,000-foot, underground pipeline to the PG&E Kettleman Compressor Station.

The Avenal Energy Project will be considered under the Commission's 12-month review process. The Committee that will oversee the review is comprised of Energy Commission Chairman William Keese as Presiding Member, and Commissioner Michal (spelled correctly) Moore as Associate Member.

Information about the Avenal Energy Project is available on the Energy Commission's website at:

www.energy.ca.gov/sitingcases/avenal/

Inland Empire Energy Center

Inland Empire Energy Center, LLC, is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Calpine Corporation. The proposed Inland Empire Energy Center project would be located on a 46-acre parcel in Romoland, six miles west of the City of Hemet. The project is expected to take two years to build at a cost of $325-$400 million.

The plant would consist of two natural gas-fired, combustion turbine generators with heat recovery steam generators, a steam turbine generator and state-of-the-art pollution control equipment. Natural gas would be delivered to the plant through a mile-long, 20-inch pipeline.

The Inland Empire Energy Center will also be considered under the Commission's 12-month process. Energy Commissioner Robert Pernell will serve as Presiding Member of the Committee reviewing the project. Commissioner Michal Moore will serve as Associate Member.

More information on the Inland Empire Energy Center is available on the Energy Commission website at:

www.energy.ca.gov/sitingcases/inlandempire/

Public involvement is a very important part of the Energy Commission review process. To find out how to participate, call the Energy Commission's Public Adviser, Roberta Mendonca, at 916-654-4489, toll free at 800-822-6228, or by e-mail at: pao@energy.state.ca.us.

Keith:

This is what I am showing for our open exposure with enron in the western region. The positions represent your side...ie: you are net long perm basis from us. If you can scan your files to see who we could all wash with to reduce net exposure, I would appreciate it. Please give me a buzz in the morning.

Hope all is well with you.

Plse take the spreadsheet below and cut out ELPerm/ELPSan Juan/Norcan/Malor/Sobcal and put these into a separate spreadsheet. I need to send those points to Enron tonight with a disclaimer on the bottom so that we can work on rolling out of risk.

thanks. rita

Geoff:

Attached is J.Aron's request and their exposure to Enron. Rita has not already found a suitable offset as she felt it was most appropriate to get our permission first. PLease make go away.

Also, I received a similar request from David Dutch at Entergy-Koch. Please call him at 713-544-5580. Make this go away too.

Finally, find paper I put on your desk from Harrison with Semptra.

Have fun Sweet Pea!!!
