Sherrie,

I talked to Karen Buckley and she said that the HR analyst and associate program is currently full but may be looking to hire again in the summer. She told me that there may HR needs and/or recruiting needs in specific divisions that she is not aware of. Her recommendation is to look on the Enron Job Seeker website to see if there are any specific jobs that may be of interest to you.

Call me if you after you look at the website and let me know if there are any opportunities that make sense for you.

Hi Tom,

Thanks for talking to me last night about Enron and their different associate opportunities. Below is the description I found about the HR Associate/Analyst Program on Enron's web site (<http://www4.enron.com/corp/jobs/recruiting/program.html>):

HR ASSOCIATE/ANALYST PROGRAM

Enron's Human Resources Associate & Analyst Program is designed to identify and groom the best people to become future leaders in their chosen field. Through their rotations, Associates and Analysts have the opportunity learn our business, become acclimated to our corporate culture and contribute to our growth.

Graduates For the Associate program, Enron seeks individuals with an advanced degree; at least 2 years' work experience (not necessarily HR); and an entrepreneurial spirit. Associates are expected to assume active roles of responsibility in development of the HR function, working independently or on teams. Rotations are for 6 months each, with promotion to HR Manager being purely merit based. Business Unit rotations will afford you an opportunity to gain insight into the business and staffing needs of Enron. HR rotations are designed to develop your generalist, consulting, and leadership skills.

The contact person listed is Karen Buckley (713.345.4667). My resume is also attached. My HR experience was prior to graduate school. I worked at Vinson & Elkins as their Interim Litigation Coordinator from 1994-1996 and The University of Michigan, where I was a Department Manager from 1992-1994.

Thanks so much for helping me Tom; I really appreciate it. Also, if you have any advice about my resume or need any additional information, you can reach me at home (713.868.9464), my cell (832.444.2229) or this email. I'm online most of the day.

Thanks again and I'll wait to hear back from you.

Tom ... I've ordered boxes, and they should be here sometime this afternoon. It would probably be a good idea to have everything packed before you leave today. I talked with Delores Sustaita w/the Move Team, and she said that they typically start around 9:00 ... but that might not necessarily be the time that you are moved tomorrow. She said that they cannot guarantee when which group will be moved, and suggested that the groups not come in since you more than likely won't be able to log in to our computers for most of the day. What do you think?

Also, would you like for me to look into getting season tickets for the Houston Texans? I know that Jessica, Barry Tycholiz's assistant, purchased some earlier this year.

I would like our group to continue to get lunches at their desk if possible. If other trading desks are not doing this then just the EOL trades. Talk to Ina and let me know.

Tom, want me to start ordering lunches just for our group? I could even take specific orders for what each person likes, and have them bill us or put it on someone's credit card. I can do that for just the EOL guys, too. I found out that the deliveries are going to ECN, and the clerks are picking them up from there. Well, at lunchtime, I could take a dollie with me to carry it all, and/or have Michael Salinas help me. I don't know ... whatever you'd like. That's just a suggestion that I have, if you would still like to pull away from the daily lunches for the whole floor. I've noticed a lot of our guys don't like the lunches, and they sometimes go get food from the Energizer. We still get billed for their food, even if they don't eat.

Let me know if you'd still like to do this, because it's definitely possible.

Laura

P.S. - I just thought of another suggestion ... I could make Peanut Butter & Jelly sandwiches for us!!!! YEAH!

Dear Colleagues,

We know you have many questions about your new benefits plan, payroll issues and other changes that will occur over the next few weeks. Human Resources and Communications are preparing a thorough Q&A, which we will send to you tomorrow and will regularly update as more information is available.

Meanwhile, please read the announcement below from Security about how you can obtain a new UBS Warburg access card that will allow you to enter our new office space after Friday.

I am confident that you share my enthusiasm about our new opportunity. We look forward to working along side each of you in the coming days.

David Oxley Head, Human Resources

Access Cards

There will be a two-day transition for the new UBS Warburg access cards. Beginning Monday, February 11, access to the 5th and 6th floors of Enron Center South will require these new cards. UBS Warburg access cards can be picked up from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the reception area on the 5th floor of Enron Center South on Thursday, February 7th ; Friday, February 8th ; and Monday, February 11. Enron Security will produce new access cards with existing photographs, then simultaneously issue the new and collect the old cards. Employees without UBS Warburg cards will be allowed into the Enron Center South building on Monday but will have to collect their new cards as soon as possible to gain access to the 5th and 6th floors.

Employees who fail to collect their new cards by 7 p.m. Monday will be required to contact Enron Security's general information number at 713-853-5360 to arrange to pick them up.

There will be security staff available at the pick up point on ECS 5 to help with any problems you might have.

It is suggested employees wear their access cards at all times while on the premise.

Accessible Areas - The new cards will allow UBS-W employees to enter: 5th & 6th floors and Plaza area of Enron Center South , The Sky Ring Body Shop, Enron Center North Plaza and therefore access the Credit Union and Cafeteria from either building.

Restricted Areas - Employees must submit to Enron Security a Restricted Access Request form (available by calling 713 8535360) and signed by Bob McAuliffe (713-853-7468) to enter: Enron Center South, 8th and 9th floors Enron Center North, 22nd and 34th floor Ardmore Data Center.

Employees staying with the Enron estate while visa and other issues are completed - Employees in this group who are on assignment arrangements to UBS-W will be issued a regular access card - available in the same way as other new UBS-W employees.

Estate employees who are working with UBS-W on transition issues - If they will be based in UBS-W office space they should talk to their UBS-W counterpart for approval and then UBSW HR for the issue of a UBS-W contractor card (in addition to their regular Enron badge).

Your Invitation to Enron's Executive Forum

The Office of the Chairman would like to invite you to participate in an Enron Executive Forum. This invitation is extended to those who attended an Executive Impact and Influence Program within the past few years. These informal, interactive forums will be approximately 90 minutes in length and held several times per year.

Most of the participants in the Executive Impact and Influence program have indicated a strong desire to express opinions, share ideas, and ask questions to the Office of the Chairman. Although attendance is not mandatory, the forums are designed to address those issues. They also afford the Office of the Chairman opportunities to speak directly to its executive team, describe plans and initiatives, do "reality checks", create a "rallying point" and ensure Enron's executive management is on the "same page" about where Enron is going---and why.

We realize that individuals based outside the United States will not want to make a special trip to attend the meeting, but may be able to attend one of the sessions while they are in Houston on other business. We also hope to schedule a similar session in London later this year.

We currently have a session planned for:

Wednesday, June 20, 2001 from 3:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. in Houston, EB50M

The Office of the Chairman will host the forum. Here's how it will work: ? Each session will have approximately 25 participants. ? The format will be honest, open, interactive dialogue. ? This will be your forum. Don't expect to simply sit and listen to presentations. ? This will not be the place for anonymity. You can safely ask your own questions and express your own opinions. ? You can submit questions/issues in advance or raise them during the forum. ? Some examples of topics you might want to discuss include, but are not limited to: the direction of Enron, business goals/results, M&A activities, projects/initiatives, culture, leadership, management practices, diversity, values, etc.

Because the forum will work only if everyone actively participates, we encourage you to accept this invitation only if you intend to have something to say and if you are willing to allow others to do the same. We also ask that you refrain from canceling your attendance once enrolled so that we will not have to cancel the forum. The Office of the Chairman is very willing to take valuable time from their busy schedules to hold these forums. Enrollments will be on a first come first served basis and we hope you would be able to honor your commitment to attend. For planning purposes, it is essential that you RSVP no later than Monday, June 11, 2001 by return e-mail to Debbie Nowak, or via fax 713.646.8586.

We will confirm your registration with you, in writing and forward a list of enrollees to the Office of the Chairman.

Should you have any questions or concerns, please notify Gerry Gibson via e-mail (gerry.gibson@enron.com). Gerry can also be reached at 713.345.6806.

Thank you.

1. The 5th and 6th floor to ECS is now closed and restricted to anyone other than the workers so that our floor will be ready for us. Please do not try and schedule any tours because they will not be allowed.
2. Only people who have been given access will be allowed from 3:00 PM to 6:00 PM on Sunday, which will be limited. Please tell your guys that they will be turned away at the door if they try to come in. The building will be opened at 5:00 AM on Monday morning for everyone to come in early and unpack and make sure their equipment is setup. There will be techs on the floors by 5:00 AM, including move teams personnel and telephone help as well. * On this note, I can give access to the admins to come in on Sunday since you are POC for your group and I can give access to either 1 or 2 people from your group as well to come in and test the machines. Please make sure you gather everyone's password and logon name so that this can be done Sunday. If anyone has any questions regarding this you can direct them to me. Email me the names of who will be coming from your group today please. If I don't have a name, then the employee will not be let in.
3. Please make sure to pack your headsets and I will have someone there on Sunday to install Assts headsets only, everyone else will be installed on Monday morning. If there is someone in your group that it is crucial to have a headset installed, please let me know. 4. Make sure your groups know where they are located at on their map that is in their move packet. Highlight it for them if needed. If you need more copies, let me know.

If there is anything you need help with or have a question on, please let me know.

Lyne, My name is Mark Bain and I'm the Web Site Administrator for the Mariners. I would be glad to help out in any way. Please pass this email and my phone numbers (281-379-6896 hm. 281-518-3251 wk.) to your website person. I put alot of info in this email to help get started but if it is a little overwhelming, just call. A previous board member, Steve Burleigh, created our web site last year and gave me alot of ideas. For this year, I found a web site called eTeamZ that hosts web sites for sports groups. Check out our new page: <http://www.eteamz.com/swimmariners/> eTeamsZ is really easy to use and does not require much web site knowledge. They do the formatting and you supply the info. If your web guru wants to get creative, they can do some custome stuff as well. The best part, however, is that it is FREE. Of course with free you have to put up with a little advertising but since this site is tailor made for sports (meet schedules, practice schedules calendars, news, maps, etc.) , I think it is worth it. If you don't decide to use eTeamZ, that's fine too. I've created some other web sites and should be able to answer some questions. Sounds like you have some experience so it should be no problem. Good luck and let me know what else you need. eTeamZ TIPS: Oh, here are some tips on getting started with eTeamZ. (difficulties that I had anyway): Registration- <http://www.eteamz.com/company/sites/register/> The toughest part was coming up with a nickname and a user name for the websites. Seems that most of the users are into baseball and Mariners was taken. I think I used Mariners Swim Team for nickname and goMariners for the username because I kept hitting other name that were being used. WebSite- When I got to the "build you web" page, I chose Team Web Site. They also had options for Leagues and Orgs. My best advice is to start populating things via the admin page and bring up another windows to check the progress of what is actually displayed. PLUS - They have a premium service called PLUS that you pay for but I didn't see much use for it except you get rid of some of the advertising banners. They also show that you can use this site for registration and other things but we are keeping it pretty simple. -----Original Message Follows-----
