Hello, Charlie

I enjoyed talking with you re. your plans to use the DSSAT models in your work doing crop forecasting related to commodities trading. I have copied in Gordon Tsuji, Univ. of Hawaii, who may also be able to help you by referring you to people who have done similar activities. Gordon has been involved with the IBSNAT/DSSAT/ICASA work for a long time and was part of the managing entity of the DSSAT project.

I got this message for a contractor that might be interested in working with us on the lateral. Steve Thome had good luck with them on a water line and wanted to pass the name along. He also called and mentioned a guy who is with an Enron affiliate - Northern Border - and is interested in a pipeline spur as well. His phone number is 303-575-6479. May be helpful to keep it in the Enron family.

Rusty,

Here is the contact for our pipeline contractor:

Clark Ashton Rooney Engineering 1418 Millstream Lane Salt Lake City, UT 84106

Clark is the business development guy. He is well connected in the power industry (he used to work for NEPCo). I believe Rooney specializes in pipeline installation - they certainly are extremely knowledgeable. I suggest you contact Clark to find out more.

One thing to keep in mind is that while prices move around the percentage of swaps we unwind will change as well. Just a warning that the amounts will change up to the very last minute.

The syndication of STAR VPP, LP into the new funding vehicle is on the way. Below are the docs for review. The new funding vehicle will be named KSTAR VPP LIMITED PARTNERSHIP (hoping I can shorten it to LP). I wanted to have your group in the loop because this WILL require a counterparty name change in the system. I am not sure of the effective date yet, but we will make it effective the 1st of the month.

I asked legal why we have to change the name and they informed me that because of the financial structure of the deal, the banks want to know that this VPP is a newly formed entity with no prior business and no prior liabilities associated with it. From a financial perspective, all business activity before syndication is done as STAR VPP, LP and all business done after syndication will be done as KSTAR VPP LIMITED PARTNERSHIP. Believe me, I wish we could avoid the name change, but there is no way around it.

Once the contract details are fine tuned we can meet up on the process of the name change.

I will keep you informed of further activity. Fort Pierce Repowering Project ("FPRP") - Undyed Fuel Purchase

Sender	justin.folloder@enron.com
Recipients	[charles.weldon@enron.com]
File	weldon-c/ft_pierce/3.

Charlie:

Per our conversation earlier today, I outline below the steps to proceed in addressing the following four taxes: Federal Excise Tax, Pollutant Fee, Florida State Tax and Local Option Fee.

It is my understanding that Central Oil has paid all four taxes and is currently billing Florida Municipal Power Agency ("FMPA") for the same. Enron has agreed to reimburse FMPA for all such moneys FMPA pays to Central Oil for the Pollutant Fee. FMPA will be made whole for the moneys paid to Central Oil related to the Federal Excise Tax, Florida State Tax and the Local Option Fee in the form of a refund from either the IRS or the state of Florida.

Federal Excise Tax A technical reading related to claims and refunds of Federal Excise Tax on diesel fuel provides that if undyed fuel is sold, tax must be charged. Only the end user can apply for a credit or refund. Per a Fort Pierce Utilities Authority ("FPUA") letter I received today which was included in a fax from Karlan White at Central Oil, FMPA would be the party who ultimately will pay the fuel bill for the oil (to expedite payment). The billing address, however, will be FPUA; such address would show on the invoices. Ultimately FPUA is the end user of the oil.

Nevertheless, I suggest FMPA actually complete the attached Form 8849 and remit such form to the address noted in the instructions. FMPA is the party doing the financial transacting with Central Oil (on behalf of FPUA). At the same time, FMPA should pay the related Federal Excise Taxes to Central Oil since Central Oil has already remitted such moneys to the IRS.

The rationale for FMPA filing Form 8849 and not FPUA is that FMPA is the party making the payment to Central Oil. Nevertheless, there is a slight chance the IRS will require FPUA to file the Form 8849 itself. For administrative purposes, though, I suggest FMPA be the party to file. If the IRS does not accept the filing, we can then resubmit Form 8849 using FPUA as the filing entity.

Pollutant Fee FMPA agrees to reimburse the Pollutant Fee to Central Oil.

Florida State Tax and Local Option Fee FMPA must reimburse Central Oil for both the Florida State Tax and the Local Option Fee. At the same time, FMPA should complete and file the attached Form DR-26, Application for Refund, with the Florida Department of Revenue.

If you have any additional questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Regards,

Justin

David,

Per your request yesterday, I am forwarding the advice provided by our Enro) tax contact, Justin Folloder, on how best to proceed with resolution of the fuel oil tax issue. Also per our conversation, I assume that you will take up the issues below that require FMPA action directly with Steve M. The forms that Justin is recommending FMPA fill out and submit are attached. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,

In an effort to help the Financial Trading Group begin effectively trading = ag=20 commodities, we have attempted to locate a commercially available crop mode= l=20 to predict macro-crop effects based on real-time weather data and forward= =20 weather scenarios. We have purchased a model known as DSSAT, which is high= ly=20 regarded in the agricultural modeling community. One of the primary author= s=20 of this software, Joe Ritchie, has recently retired from Michigan State=20 University and is moving to Texas. Dr. Ritchie ahs expressed interest in= =20 providing assistance to us in setting up this software. His new address is= =20 217 Camino Principal, Belton, Texas 76513 and telephone is 254-933-7742. UT Team,

I just got word that Monique Salazar and Nadeem Abdullah have already accepted the offer to come to Enron. So please call and congratulate them rather than cultivate. The only formal decline we have received is from Scott Conner, so unless you would like to try and sway him to Enron there is no need to contact him.

Also for clarification - if you have a candidate name next to your name in the team roster please contact only that candidate. (Ex. David Haug will only call Niraj Parikh) If you do not have a candidate name next to your name please call all the candidates on your team list. (Ex. Jennifer Martinez will call all 5 candidates on her team) The hope is that these candidates will feel a sense of belonging and want to come to Enron. The candidates will appreciate someone from Enron who takes the time out to call and it shows our people care.

If you have any further questions please feel free to contact me anytime.

Subject: UT Candidate Cultivation

Hi UT Team -

We're in a critical time in the recruiting process as offers have been extended and we need to make sure they're accepted! In order to ensure cultivation of the UT candidates who received offers, we have assigned each of you to a team of candidates to call at least once before the Holidays.

The teams are designed so there is an executive lead, an experienced Enron representative, and/or an associate. All members of the cultivation team should contact each candidate assigned to their team each week. If the executive leads want to develop a more detailed strategy for their cultivation team that is fine. Each week the associate should report to me about the candidates on their team, letting me know about any issues or concerns.

The deadline for offer acceptance has been extended to January 2nd! Please communicate this to all candidates and make sure to let them know if the paperwork is not in our office by January 2nd we will assume they are declining.

If you have any questions or do not feel that you have the time to devote to this, please let me know so we can replace you. I really appreciate your help! Don't forget to call everyone at least once before the Holidays, because they will be leaving campus for Christmas break soon!

Team #1: Candidates: Lead - David Haug Niraj Parikh 512-401-8530 Thomas Suffield Monique Salazar 512-474-1974 Ellen Fowler Todd Preheim 512-799-8981 Kyle Kettler Jonathan Mueller 512-342-2531 Paul Broderick Roman Stephens 512-444-5480 Mark Gandy Jennifer Martinez Peter Hayes John Massey Gwynn Gorsuch

To the best of my knowledge we have had no acceptances or declines from UT but if you have more up to date information please past it my way.

If there is a member of the team I have left off the distribution list and wants to participate please let me know.

Thank you again,

Please see the note below from Iris Meunier regarding the Gas & Power Trading Calendar. Please advise of the following three questions: would you like to take ownership of the Calendar; should the Calendar still be in use; and can V. Charles Weldon be given access to the Calendar.

We thank you for your time and assistance.

Hi everyone, and sorry for the delays all this is causing...

The G&P calendar has not been used for months (ie.: at least for the past 2 years...!). I would not foresee any inconvenience with anyone using it. The request originally came almost 3 years ago from when I was working in London (for the Gas & Power Trading groups). Since then, I have moved to the Madrid office and Lauren Urquhart has replaced me (with ext. 7359).

I would suggest you maybe get in touch with Rachel Adams and see if she would like to become the new "owner" of this calendar (if she sees any current benefit in still having one), considering her important role on the trading floor in London.

You can go ahead and erase my name from the owner list once you have a new one.

Best regards, Iris

If you can leave the airport by 1:30, make it to dook by 2:00, leave dook by 2:45 (3:00 at the absolute latest), then you'll probably be alright. Cameron should take all of about 10 minutes to lose your excitement over, then you can walk around and check out all the ugly pussy that plagues the campus, then see a bunch of yankee butt pirates circle jerking in the quad, buy yourself a championship t-shirt with jiz all over it (but they won it with heart!), you can be out of there in 45 minutes easy!! Without any traffic delays, you'll be east of Raleigh where we can meet at 3:45 or 4:00 at the McDonalds at Hwy 42 and I-40 (write that down, it's about 10-15 minutes east of Raleigh). If you get stuck west of Raleigh in a traffic snarl, you could be there for 1-2 hours. I work in Chapel Hill on Wednesdays and won't drive back on I-40 if it's after 3:00, I take a back route.

Let me give you directions to Orton just in case, it's easy. I-40 from Raleigh to Wilmington, as you approach Wilmington take a right at a big light on Smith Creek Parkway (new since your day, it's just before Market Street), go about 1-2 miles and it will end, take a right on 23rd St, pass the airport on your right, road will come to an end again, take a left, I think this is Hwy 133 South which takes you around/through nig-town Wilmington, cross the Cape Fear River and follow signs to Southport staying on Hwy 133 South which will go straight to Orton, follow the signs into the gate and the house is on the right once you enter the gate. From the airport without major traffic it will take a good 2 1/2 hours without stopping, say 3 hours with a pissing 4 year old!!

Gate House phone number 910-371-9240 My work number 919-552-6506 My cell phone 919-662-6711

Wesie and I will try to leave at 3:30 so we can meet at 4:00. Call me when you get to the airport and let me know what the deal is. I'm in Chapel Hill on Wednesday so you could reach me on my cell phone. I won't get e-mail on Wednesday.

At 03:52 PM 4/2/2001 -0500, you wrote:

What time do you plan on leaving "East Raleigh"? How long does it take to get to that point from Duke assuming 3:00-4:00 traffic? If we can get our car pretty quick, I might take a quick trip to Cameron only so Hunter can see where the greatest dynasty in modern college basketball plays. If we get hung up at all, then I'll defer it for sure though. (I think you just don't want me to get my family dressed up in Duke National Championship paraphernalia to wear all weekend.)

Julia,

I'm looking forward to meeting you on Friday during the information session. Just to give you an update, I met with a Texas MBA contact, Charlie Weldon (aka Charles V. Weldon), today. The visit went well and I learned a lot about the MBA program at McCombs. Charlie was uncertain as to what the "next steps" are in terms of providing feedback to the Admissions Committee.

It would be great if you could pass on the necessary evaluation forms, deadlines, etc. that he will need in order to provide feedback to the Admissions Committee. Charlie's contact information is as follows:

Please feel free to contact me should you need any additional information. Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to visiting with you on Friday.

Thank you for the quick response. I tried this morning and the information was not in the system yet. However, when I tried this afternoon, I was able to find a contact. I am going to be talking to Charles Weldon (MBA 2000) at one point this week. This is the first interview Charles will be performing and he was curious as to what he needed to provide to the Admissions office. Do I need to bring him an evaluation form, etc.?

Also, I plan to come down for the campus tour and information session on Friday of this week, April 27, 2001. I believe that it begins at 1:00 pm. I would love to stop by and visit with you if you have time.

Thank you and I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Re: Application for Connie Nita Lee to the MBA Program at the McCombs School of Business

To Whom It May Concern:

I submitted an application through Embark for the MBA Program at the McCombs School of Business on Saturday, April 14, 2001. I have been looking forward to scheduling an off-campus interview with a UT Alumnus. However, I am having difficulty signing up for an interview on-line. I have been entering the following information:

birthdate: 19710705 student ID: 334621557

Since the deadline for off-campus interviews is May 1, 2001, you can probably understand my concern for getting an interview scheduled. The people in the admissions office were kind enough to check on the status of my application, however, it appears that my application has still not down-loaded into the UT system. Can you please inform me of an alternate way to schedule an off-campus interview so that I may talk to someone prior to the May 1, 2001 deadline?

Thank you so much for your consideration in the above matter. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Rafi,

I spoke with Tim Proffitt regarding this request. His comment was that HMC needs to know the weighted average basis to use in their model. I can work on this. I can also speak towards how the cash will settle to KSTARR on 1) the hedges with ENA and 2) the physical gas sales to the market. I cannot speak towards how the cash will settle (be "funneled") from KSTARR to the equity owner via the legal document governing the certificates. Tim and the legal team that papered the deal can help you with those aspects of the deal.

Regarding some of the questions below.... (Trish/Pam - please correct me if you see anything wrong)

Q: Does the production occur daily or monthly? A: Production is nominated daily, but aggregated for each day for a monthly total. This monthly total is priced at the monthly index, depending upon location.

Q: How would physical sales be priced, considering the fact that the basis is already secured? A: All physical gas is sold into the market (to ENA on some instances) and is priced based upon where the applicable monthly index settles, meaning this is a floating price until the 1st day of the production month when the index is set. KSTARR will receive cash for physical gas sales on the 25th day following the month of production (July production proceeds are collected on August 25). The financial basis hedges (difference between NYMEX and the applicable index) will settle on the 5th business day following the 1st day of the month (July basis hedge settles between ENA and KSTARR on July 5th).

I need to speak with you further regarding the remaining questions. Some I may be able to speak to and others Tim will be able to help.

Regards,

Eric

Eric,

Below is an e-mail from one of our contacts at Harvard Management Company (HMC). They manage the Harvard University endowment and Jason works in their commodities group.

We are talking to him about the possibility of buying equity in the KCS deal. Specifically, they will buy Trust certificates that CIBC currently owns. The reason why this is important is that CIBC negotiated certain equity rights which effectively gives them veto rights over debt. CIBC is unwilling to give up their rights, so we are looking into the possibility of having HMC buy them out. HMC will not insist on having these rights.

With this background in mind, I need your help to answer some of the following question with regards to KCS. Can you or Charlie go through the following questions and we can discuss them afterwards. I know the answer to some of the questions, but not all.

Thanks and best regards,

Rafi

Thanks... I haven't spoken to stu yet, but a couple questions:

is there a floating price offtaker lined up for the gas? does production occur daily over the course of the month? how would physical sales be priced, considering the fact that the basis is already secured? The offtaker must either pay NYMEX prices for the gas, or else the packaged basis swap must settle on the same terms that the offtaker calculates the prevailing basis... would the offtaker pay bidweek prices or daily nymex settles...?

What is the "excess cash allocated to equity"? some sort of fixed payment? when is that made? the "total" line would imply that the "excess cash" is paid immediately, or else that the value is already a PV number, since it is not being discounted... what is the certainty of that payment?

Based on current NYM pricing, I get the NPV of unhedged volumes worth about 3.4m, making the total including excess cash payment 5.45m... What is the upfront equity required?
