Enron Federal Credit Union Stands Ready to Assist You Enron Federal Credit Union would like you to know that we stand ready to assist our members affected by the recent events. We are committed to those who may need special assistance during this difficult time. The State of Enron Federal Credit Union We are dedicated to providing our members with all the services they would normally expect to receive. Business will continue to be conducted as it always has. We will continue to provide loans. In the event you have an EFCU loan or credit card, we will negotiate a workable agreement for its repayment if necessary. These arrangements will be made on an individual basis. ATM withdrawals and Debit Card transactions will carry the same daily limits. EFCU will be conducting "business as usual." EFCU is a not-for-profit financial institution (a cooperative) owned and operated by you, the member. And, although we are here exclusively to provide financial services to the employees of Enron Corp. and their family members, we remain financially independent from Enron Corp. And, your accounts at the Credit Union are insured to $100,000.00 by the National Credit Union Share Insurance Fund (NCUSIF), supervised by the National Credit Union Administration (NCUA), an agency of the U.S. Government.

How To Access The Credit Union

You may continue to access your funds in the Credit Union at EB 399, through our electronic services, or at any of our Texas Credit Union Service Center branches:

Hi Mark:

I've been talking to the folks at Pioneer Oil Company regarding their coalbed methane project in Sheridan County, WY and have quoted them a gathering rate for redelivery into Big Horn. They currently have only 5 wells drilled, with plans to drill a total of 13 sites, 3 coals each by years end. Based on the results of this pilot project, an additional 100 wells will be drilled in the first quarter of 2002. This pilot project is located in T55N, R79W and is a "stones throw" from BHGG.

They are interested in discussing transportation and marketing options. Wayne Fisher has been my primary contact to date and is a consultant working with Pioneer in Sheridan. Tad Butt is President of Pioneer and is located in Billings, MT. (This is their first coalbed methane play; Pioneer Oil Company is a supplier of equipment and services to the asphalt paving industry.)

Dear Colleague:

In this business, information and top-level analysis are key in ensuring that the decisions you make are the right ones. Weekly Power Plays and Daily Power Plays are the answers to your information needs

What is Weekly Power Plays?

It's a weekly newsletter exclusively targeted for electricity producers and distributors - professionals whose strategies are both long and short term.

Weekly Power Plays combines price information and analysis in every weekly issue so that you not only see the prices, you see how to anticipate future prices and the moves you need to make to take advantage of their fluctuations.

Not Just Prices!

Weekly Power Plays analyzes the issues that affect prices - helping you to anticipate changes by exploring:

- * Supply and demand issues;
- * Industry trends;
- * Fuel prices;
- * The affects of the new administration's new energy policy;
- * Environmental regulations and the EPA's review of the NSR program;
- * Much, much more - in a concise, easy to read format!

What is Daily Power Plays?

The number of independently owned publications covering the energy industry has dwindled, yet your need for solid pricing information is increasing. You simply can't afford to make decisions based on limited information- yet what can you do? Daily Power Plays, is a daily pricing service that offers:

- * Market prices for the West, Midwest, East and Texas;
- * Commentaries on each market;
- * Exclusive fuel price indicators from Petroleum Argus and COAL Daily;
- * Exclusive spark spreads;
- * Exclusive emission permit indices from AIR Daily;
- * Breaking news;
- * And much, much more!

See for Yourself with these FREE No-obligation Trial Offers! Just reply to this email: <mailto:rlippock@energyargus.com> and let us know which newsletter(s) you'd like to receive a trial to, and we'll start your free no-obligation trial(s) today!

Folks,

Please plan on attending a conference call Thursday morning (12/13) at 10 am CST to discuss how the cash approval process will be carried out going forward. Attached is an example of the 5 day rolling forecast that the Cash Management Committee uses as an agenda. Also attached is the Cash Use Approval Request form that will be used for justifying the payment of expenses. We will discuss the process and lay out some guidelines for getting things through the Committee and executed as smoothly as possible. Houston people will meet in ECS 05116 (conference room on the left-hand wall as you come into the room). I will send out the dial-in number tomorrow morning. Thanks for your help in this.

Doug

Mark, Brian, and Steve, Further to my conversation two weeks ago with Mark, I would like to schedule a visit to Denver 11/19-20. As a reminder, Business Controls is looking at the security posture of Enron facilities worldwide. Currently, we are focusing our resources on domestic sites. At the moment, I am planning for one of our IT specialists to travel from Portland to assist me with reviewing IT back-up procedures, recovery, and continuity issues. If I could impose on you to provide some information about the office, it would greatly help in our planning. In particular, could you briefly describe the office(s); physical location, which floor, how large, how many employees, and any other Enron subsidiaries or offices in Denver. Additionally, would you be our point of contact, or can you designate someone? Thank you in advance for your attention to this matter.

As could be expected PSCO has finally implemented PRM this year and did a great job of "buying the high". Now the rate payers will have lower prices than last year but probably twice as high as they should be. I would definitely like to discuss it with you. How about 1:30 central on the 8th?

Mark/Barry--- I finally had a chance to look this week at the Colorado PUC proposed rulemaking amendments regarding price risk management (PRM) for gas utilities. As we had generally talked about, the appetite for meaningful change to the PUCs rules has been pretty weak by staff and to a great extent by the Commissioners themselves. These proposed rules reflect some movement toward encouraging utilities to implement PRM, but does NOT require them to implement, nor is there a clear statement that the PUC will allow recovery of costs. Here's a short list of what's in the rules:

costs related to prm may be allowed, and new language is added to better define the standard of review as "whether the utility action was reasonable in light of the information known, or should have been known, at the time of action or inaction".

in the utility's annual Gas PURchase Plan they must include an exhibit that describes and analyzes the steps the utility has taken to reduce gas price volatility. It appears to be an informational filing only, but clearly signals that the PUC expects them to take some action or explain why they didn't.

the utility's actual portfolio purchases, included in the costs of purchasing risk management products, need to be included in a Gas Purchase Report to be filed annually. This report presumably is the document that the PUC will then use to determine reasonableness of gas cost pass thru.

There are numerous areas that we could comment on in this proposed rulemaking---anywhere from pushing them to be more explicit in advocating that the utility must do prr and that they will recover the costs, to something along the line of turning over their gas supply portfolio to a company that can more effectively manage it. There is a hearing scheduled for November 1 in Denver, with comments due on or before October 21.

We would be happy to intervene and file comments in the proceeding and work the issue if you guys would like us to. Might be kind of fun to tweak our friends at Xcel just a bit! Is there a time on Monday Oct 8 or Tuesday Oct 9 that we could talk via phone to determine your level of interest? I am available mid day on Monday (between 10 and 2:30 central) or Tuesday anytime up until about 3:30. Please let me know via return e mail or give me a call #612-339-4599

From: Whitt, Mark Sent: Friday, October 19, 2001 1:51 PM To: Walton, Steve; Kaufman, Paul; Calger, Christopher F. Cc: Tycholiz, Barry; Bump, Dan J. Subject: Buffalo Power Company LLC - Gas Turbine Power Plant Project

ENA and Crestone (Northern Border's non-regulated affiliate) met with a group of developers and Joe Meyer, Secretary of State in Wyoming, who have proposed to build a 200 MW power plant (expandable to 500 MW) in the Powder River basin of Wyoming. Their "angle" is that the existing utility, Powder River Electric Coop, cannot meet the demand for electricity and the necessary distribution infrastructure to maintain the pace of development in the Coal Bed Methane BOOM that is happening in the basin.

As you may or may not know, Enron has been very involved in this Coal Bed Methane play since 1998. ENA is the largest purchaser of 3rd party gas in the basin and Crestone is the largest non-producer gathering company in the basin. Crestone has a gathering trunkline located near their proposed site. The developers will be filing a petition to remove this area from the COOP's certificated territory in the next couple of weeks.

There are obviously regulatory issues revolving around their ability to gain access to this "retail" market and the project would not be economically feasible as a merchant plant in the wholesale market. However, they seem to have some political backing.

These developers recognize that they need Enron's assistance in developing this project on three main fronts:

1. Power Marketing and Project development 2. Gas Supplies and Pipeline access 3. Regulatory and Transmission expertise

Given the fact that Joe Meyer is the early favorite to be the next Wyoming Governor and we are trying to work well with the State of Wyoming, and we have a natural competitive advantage in this market from a gas supply and pipeline perspective, I would like to pursue this opportunity a little further.

Therefore, I am wondering if I could get a Sr. Commercial Power Representative and a Regulatory Representative (Steve Walton would be good since he will be on the Wyoming Energy Commission), to attend a meeting in Denver with myself and the Crestone representatives sometime in the next 2 weeks.

Please give me a call and I can elaborate on the opportunity or answer your questions. I don't want to make this email a novel!

Thanks a lot.

Been thinking about you, but figured you were busy. Asked the Jernigan's how you were doing and if your group was included in the filing. They said it was, you were trying to sell your group and that you didn't seem worried at all, which is good. Good Luck with that as I know it will be tough. On the bright side, if you sell it, you are a friggin hero for pulling off a deal in a tough environment. If you don't and go get another job, well that's what everyone expects anyway. Again, good luck, tell Lucci hey and have a Merry Christmas.

I can show you what the difference is between Cheyenne Hub daily prices and CIG first of the month index prices, but that is kind of like apples and oranges. To clarify, you do not have to buy on Enron Online (EOL), we can quote you physical prices over the phone and you can use EOL for price discovery. You do not have to decide that now. My recommendation is the attached:

Major changes are:

Volume - 20,000 mmbtu/d Price - Gas Daily Cheyenne Midpoint plus $.05 Demand Charge- $6,000 per month

In addition. Enron will provide market based pricing for additional volumes above 20,000 mmbtu

All of this is of course subject to negotiation of the appropriate contracts and Enron's review of the PSCo transportation contract.

Let me know what you think.

I spoke with Dale Sanders at Williams today. They seem very positive about the project at this point and have obviously spent a lot of money on right -of-way, regulatory filings, environmental and engineering work. I had previously put this project at a very low probability, especially with the 900 MM/d Kern expansion in 2003. I did not think that they would be able to get Williams Marketing to take a substantial part of this capacity. However, they are making the production company bear the costs of the capacity. Obviously that is the key to Williams being able to have a shot at making this project a reality.

Williams is in negotiations to fill the other 175,000 mmbtu/d. I have to put that probability at still fairly low, but stranger things have happened, especially if Williams decides to go at risk for some portion of the 540 MM/d. Probably the entire project is still less than 50% but it is obviously something to monitor very closely.

If the project gets built it will substantially effect the basis market for CIG and Northwest. Especially on the heels of the Kern River expansion. In addition, the Cheyenne market will definitely strengthen in the back years.

Call if you want to discuss or have other ideas about how to monitor these developments.

Are they going to build it if it is not fully subscribed? Or is Williams going to take the risk? I wonder why Entergy is taking space?

Mark,

Steph said you were looking for some info on the Western Frontier project that was in NGI today. I called the contact person at Western Frontier/Williams and he told me that the project was not in fact fully subscribed. He was obviously interested in speaking with you again.

I glanced through their filing, and apparently the open season led to PAs for 365,000 Dth/d of the 540,000 Dth/d of available capacity. PA have been signed with the following:

Marathon - 75,000 dth/d Williams Marketing - 200,000 dth/d Utilicorp United - 15,000 dth/d Entergy - 75,000 dth/d

With the exception of Marathon, everyone signed up for ten years. Marathon committed to five years, with an option to extend for two years.

Let me know if you need anything else.

Phil

Our new studboy engineer, Dave Scobel, has been sniffing around Cat. However, I doubt that they're ready to come out of the closet. She moved into her own apartment to get away from her dork.

Does Cat not have a date? I'm sure Lucci would escort her. -----Original Message----- From: Jurgens, Kristen Sent: Wednesday, November 14, 2001 3:32 PM To: Herauf, Terry; Hoffman, Troy; Gentry, Darrel; Hart, Rusty ; Taggart, Vern; Vande Bossche, Dick; Askew, William; Baldrige, Don; Bawden, Brian; Bierbach, Brian; Bloom, Bert; Bump, Dan J.; Braden, Catherine; Choyce, Ken; Dickenson, Carla; Downey, Pat; Flanigan, Tricia; Forrester, Dixie; Fresquez, Rick; Gross, Michelle; Hoff, James; Jagau, Jim; Jantz, Chris; Jurgens, Kristen; Kolman, Michael; Kusner, Stephen; Lebsack, Ryan; Legler, Michael J.; Lucero, Catrina; Martinez, Chris; Mathews, Bill; McElhaney, Daniel; Mnamee, Linda; Mentor, Patricia; Norris, Sue; Norton, Pierce; Parada, Lisa; Pimmel, Tim; Rafter, Mick; Ritzdorf, Paul; Schlecht, Dinah; Schroeder, Andy; Scobel, Dave; Serrano, Walt; Shields, Glennda; Sitter, Scott; Smith, Steve D; Srikijkarn, Rick; Tipton, Sarah; Varnell, Charles; Walsh, Alan; Weisberg, William; Wiederholt, Barry; Wiesner, Paul; Woods, Janice; DuBose, Heidi; Felling, Amy; Harrison, Tyrell; Lucci, Paul T.; Staab, Theresa; Whitt, Mark Subject: Holiday Party Headcount Importance: High
